PRICE ONE CENT

STOTT BLOCK SOLD FOR SUM OF $80,000

Ziskind and Cohen the Purchasers — $65,000 Improvements Planned — Another Purchase

One of the biggest real estate deals effected in this city for a long time will be put through within a few days, the first papers binding the bargain between the owner and the purchasers having been signed. The property involved in this sale is the Stott block, a large brick structure located at the junction of Thorneike and Middlesex streets. The owner is Elizabeth W. Stott, while the purchasers are David Ziskind and Sam Cohen, two prominent business men of this city. The price to be paid for the building is $80,000, while one of the prospective purchasers, Mr. Ziskind, stated this morning that he and his partner will spend about $65,000 to enlarge and improve the property.

The Stott building is a large four-story brick structure with seven or eight stories on the street floor and on the other floors. The land area is 10,200 square feet, while the assessed valuation of the entire property is $31,400, the land being assessed at $2.19 per square foot.

The sale is being made through the office of Abel R. Campbell, and a few days ago Charles Stott, representing his mother, came all the way from Minneapolis, Minn., to sign the first papers. The title of the property is now being looked up and as soon as this is finished the final papers will be signed.

Mr. Ziskind in conversation with a reporter this morning said his ambition is to improve Lowell. He said he is doing more business in Lawrence than in Lowell, but his home is in Lowell, and Lowell is his city. Speaking about the Stott property he said as soon as the final papers are passed a four-story brick structure will be erected adjoining the present building at a cost of about $65,000. This will consist of stores and business offices, there being a large demand for the latter in the district. The old building will be improved and the flats and manufacturing apartments will be converted into business offices. Several thousand dollars will be expended in improvements.

In addition to the purchase of the Stott building Mr. Ziskind recently purchased another large piece of property located in Gorham street opposite the postoffice. This is a two-story brick structure and was purchased from the Smith heirs. The building will be razed and two stories and the two flats now in the building will be converted into business offices. The two new stores will also be occupied by business offices. The price paid for the Gorham street property was $12,000 and between $15,000 and $20,000 will be expended on additions and improvements.

MONEY FOR COMPANY M

Mayor O'Donnell Asks Lowell Public to Assist Him in Raising Five Hundred Dollars

Mayor James E. O'Donnell issued a strong appeal today to the public of Lowell in behalf of the Lowell boys of Company M now on the Mexican border. The boys want $500 with which to build a mess house and put floors in their tents. The mayor has the interest of all the Lowell soldier boys at heart and he makes the following appeal to the public for the boys of Company M in order that the necessary money may be forthcoming as quickly as possible:

The Mayor's Statement

On Thursday, of this week, the following telegram was received at the mayor's office:

El Paso, Texas, July 6, 1916.

James E. O'Donnell, Mayor, Lowell, Mass.

Would it be possible to get a committee to raise $500 to build a mess house for the company, and floors in tents. Every other company has $1000 from the city. Please wire answer.

D. E. Christian, Commanding Co. M, 9th Mass. Chief, Camp Cotton, Texas.

In reply to the above, I wired that I would take immediate steps to raise the amount.

The city of Lowell has no authority to appropriate money for this purpose, and special permission cannot be obtained, as the legislature is not in session. The amount, therefore, must be raised by popular subscription, and as it is needed at once, there is no time to wait the action of a committee, or the results of a tag day.

All the people of Lowell assist me in raising $500 at once, so that the money may be sent to El Paso by Tuesday, at the latest. These boys of Company M, all of whom are from Lowell, are down at the border representing us, while we are at home in peace, comfort and prosperity. Are we going to allow them to want for comforts that can be supplied by the comparatively small amount of $500? I have too much confidence in the people of Lowell, not to believe that the necessary amount will be forthcoming at once.

If everybody contribute according to its means, and as soon as the $500 is raised the fund will be closed.

Said your contributions to the mayor's office and they will be acknowledged through the press, if you so desire or if you do not care for publicity, your wishes will be respected.

Do not hesitate about sending a small sum if you cannot afford more. Contribute what you feel that you can, however small, and it will be appreciated.

Said contributions at once to the mayor's office.

James E. O'Donnell, Mayor of Lowell.

The mayor is sending letters to all men in public life in Lowell and to others who have recently held public office, asking them to come to the front for the boys of Company M. The mayor will head the list himself with a $25 subscription and he feels that it will not take long to raise $500.

RUSSIANS CONTINUE TO DRIVE BACK TEUTONIC LINES IN EAST

Entente Allies on Western Front are Handicapped by Heavy Rains—Notable Progress for Russians in Volhynia and in Galicia—Formidable German Resistance Between Riga and Volhynia—Berlin Reports Russian Attacks on Troops of Prince Leopold Repulsed

While the entente allies on the western front have been temporarily handicapped by heavy rains in the further pushing of their offensive, the Russians under Gen. Brusiloff are continuing to drive back the Teutonic lines in the east.

Further notable progress has been made by the Russians in Volhynia, where their movement upon the important railway center of Kovel is gaining in force. Today's Petrograd announcement shows them at Gruzatyn, 30 miles southwest of Kovel.

Further north their lines have been pushed forward to Dolzyca, on the main road from Kovel to Mariow, the station on the Kovel-Safny railway, the capture of which by the Russians was reported yesterday.

New Russian Advance

In Galicia, where General Conrad von Botmer was recently compelled by Russian pressure to fall back to the line of the Koropio, a dozen miles west of the Stripa, a new advance of the Russians is reported.

Formidable German Resistance

Between Riga and Volhynia, the Germans are developing more formidable resistance to the new Russian offensive and some recession of the Russian lines in the Lake Narocz region, south of Dyvinsk, is admitted. The battle near Baranovichi is still raging with little change in positions.

To Join Lines

In the field of the western offensive of the allies a rainy night was employed chiefly by the British in strengthening the positions they won yesterday in their drive to bring their lines up to a level with those of the French on their right flank.

French Gain Ground

Heavy French guns now being brought up are counted on to assist a further advance of the British by

BABY IS EXPOSED TO INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Three Weeks Old Baby in Home of the Present Victim—Case is Reported in Lawrence Today

SYMPTOMS OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Fever accompanied by stomach and bowel trouble.
Discharge from nose and throat.
Dullness and irritability.
Pains start in the lower limbs and sometimes along the spine.
Paralysis follows frequently within 24 hours.
If death does not result the patient is frequently helpless for life, never really recovering.

PRECAUTIONS TO BE TAKEN

Since health is no protection, cleanliness should be insisted upon.
Keep the nose and throat clean.
Report all suspicious cases to the board of health.
Keep those afflicted isolated.
Remove everything possible from the sick room. Carpets and hangings should be removed before the patient is put in the room.
Air the sick room well several times daily.
One attendant is best.
Discharges from the nose and throat should be received on a handkerchief which should be burned at once or immersed in a 2 per cent solution of carbolic acid.
All clothing and bed linen used by the sick person should be immersed in the carbolic solution before they are removed from the sick room.

No new cases of infantile paralysis have been reported at the office of the board of health at city hall. The case of Arkoudoula Maricoucu, aged 1 year, and living at 54 Fenwick street, is the only one on record in Lowell and it was stated today that the little patient is doing as well as can be expected.

This case was reported by Dr. Marshall L. Alling and at the time the information was given out at the board of health office yesterday it was not known if there were other children in the Maricoucu family. In this case there have been cases in this city where only one in a family of several children was stricken, but they agree that there may be different grades of the disease, some more contagious than others.

There was a case of infantile paralysis reported in Lawrence today and the state health authorities have advised several cases in this state derived from the epidemic in New York, for it is said that, like the typhoid germ, that of infantile paralysis is known to be carried by persons in perfect health and without knowledge of the fact that they are carriers of the deadly germ.

Looks Like Increase Instead of Decrease in Tax Rate

The assessors of taxes are not holding out any hope for a reduction in Lowell's tax rate this year. When a reduction in the state tax was announced the belief prevailed that there was a reduction of at least 50 cents in sight, but figures obtained at the assessors' office at city hall today dissipate that inspiring belief.

The assessors are now wise to all charges in connection with the state.

SHOT BY HIS SON

Dr. Holmes of Brooklyn Accidentally Shot at Westport

NEW BEDFORD, July 8.—Dr. William F. Holmes of Brooklyn, it was learned here today, was accidentally shot yesterday by his son, John, aged 11, at their summer home in Westport, a suburb of this city. The father and son, according to a statement by the doctor, were engaged in target practice when the gun in the hands of young Holmes was discharged, the bullet penetrating the physician's left lung. Dr. Holmes was taken to a hospital in Fall River and his condition today was said to be favorable.

MURKLAND IS BLAMELESS

JUDGE FISHER WHO CONDUCTED INQUEST ON BEKISH DEATH EXONERATES HIM

Walter E. Murkland, whose automobile struck and killed Andrew Bekish, a child, in East Merrimack St., near Howe street, on Saturday, June 24, at about 12:30 o'clock, was this morning found not guilty of a charge of manslaughter in police court and ordered discharged by Judge T. J. Enright. The dismissal of the case came as a result of the inquest finding of Judge Frederic A. Fisher, who reported that no criminal negligence was attached to Mr. Murkland or any other person.

The inquest finding concludes as follows:

"On all the evidence I find that Andrew Bekish, a male child three and one-half years of age, who lived with his parents at No. 22 Howe street, in said Lowell, was fatally injured at about 12:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, June 24, 1916, by being run over by an automobile operated by Walter E. Murkland of said Lowell, and that said Andrew Bekish died in consequence of the injuries so received, either instantly at the time of the accident or a few moments thereafter at St. John's hospital in said Lowell, where he was immediately taken. I further find that the death of said Andrew Bekish was not caused by the unlawful act or criminal negligence of said Walter E. Murkland or of any other person or persons."

DEATH CAR CASE

Evidence That Death of Miss Ward Took Place in Boston

BOSTON, July 8.—Evidence that the death of Miss Margaret Ward of Peabody, whose body was found in an automobile in Salem last Wednesday morning, took place in this city and was due to illegal medical practice, was presented to the Suffolk county grand jury yesterday. According to information from the office of District Attorney Pelletier, who is conducting the investigation, it is believed that an operation was performed upon the young woman in a house which has been definitely located in the central part of the city; that she was afterward removed to a house on Warren street in the Roxbury district, and that she was dead when placed in the automobile.

The witnesses yesterday included Medical Examiner Atwood of Essex county, police officer, and relatives of the dead woman. Dr. John J. Shanahan, Charles R. O'Connell, an attorney and former state representative, and Thomas Sexton, all of Peabody; James O'Connell of Lynn; George Bartwell of Boston; and William Conlin of Salem, all of whom are under arrest, were excused from testifying, although they appeared at the court house ready to answer questions. Two young women, Geraldine and Rhona Pittfield, sisters, who have also been arrested in connection with the case, declined to testify by advice of counsel.

POWDER MILL EXPLOSION

ONE MAN KILLED AND A SCORE INJURED AT DU PONT POWDER CO. PLANT

WILMINGTON, Del., July 8.—One workman was instantly killed and a score or more of others slightly injured today in an explosion in the Hagley part of the du Pont Powder Co. in Henry Clay, near here. A coroner's inquest was held at the plant, where the explosion was being ground was wrecked and a box manufacturing mill and tinshop nearby, all connected with the du Pont plant, were damaged while the post-office and a number of dwellings at Henry Clay sustained broken windows. The origin of the explosion is not known.

NATION WIDE FIGHT

health department today. The absence of many doctors on their vacations and with regiments at the border has made it difficult, the department said, to get volunteers.

Assistant Surgeon General W. C. Rucker of the federal public health service, came here today from Washington to confer with the local health officers and directed the six experts assigned by the national government to help combat the epidemic. The federal experts will concentrate their efforts upon preventing the spread of the disease to other states.

Dr. Haven Emerson, the city health commissioner, declared it would be impracticable to prevent parents and children from leaving the city, even though they came from infected districts. No known cases may be moved, however, and all persons in contact with the disease must remain there. The health officials attached little significance thus far to reports of isolated cases in other parts of the country outside New York state.

The epidemic here has cast its shadow in many places. Children under 15 have been barred not only from moving picture shows but from all the amusements at Coney Island, except those in the open air. Sixteen playground streets were closed today and the opening of 28 more was delayed.

The children's rooms in the public libraries and all playgrounds are being closed. Oil will be sprinkled on the surface of the park playgrounds to make them as dustless as possible.

How the Epidemic Has Grown

The number of deaths is given by dates on which they occurred and not by dates on which they were reported. Hence there were some on July 7 which do not appear here. The number of cases is in some instances approximate.

French women have so successfully demonstrated their efficiency since the outbreak of the war as substitutes for the men at the front that from a small beginning in clerical service and light duties on the railways, their employment has spread to every department except operation and maintenance. Among their duties at present are clerical, ticket and freight office work, care of platforms, lamps and lighting service, cleaning stations, cars and engines and transferring freight between cars and freight depots.

NONE IN BOSTON—SIX IN STATE

BOSTON, July 8.—This city is without trace of infantile paralysis and only six cases had been reported officially in the state up to noon today, according to records at state and local health offices. The cases reported were scattered, not more than one being noted in any place, and none of which was connected with the New York epidemic, it was stated. Unofficial reports of other cases increased the number in this state to ten.

The state health officials have taken various precautions against the spread of the disease. A camp at North Stockbridge, to which children from New York are sent, has been placed under quarantine by local authorities and a request made that it be discontinued when the children now there return home.

OUTBREAK IN NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J., July 8.—One death, the second this week, two new cases, making eight this week, and two suspected cases, is this morning's report of the infantile paralysis outbreak in Newark.

ANOTHER CASE AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT, R. I., July 8.—Another case of infantile paralysis has been reported to the board of health and a special meeting of that body has been called. Of the two cases discovered so far, one has been discharged as recovered. The two present cases are light.

Men of the naval training station have been ordered to keep their families away from moving picture shows while the epidemic is prevalent. The naval authorities have been given as a matter of precaution and recruits will be guarded against contagion from other cities as well as Newport.

CASE IN HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, July 8.—A case of infantile paralysis was discovered in this city this morning by Dr. F. A. Sullivan, who reported it to the board of health, and Agent George T. Lennon immediately took all precautions to prevent its spread. The patient is Daniel Joseph, a four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Evans. The origin of the disease cannot be traced. The family has not been out of the city for several months.

TWO CHILDREN STRICKEN

PATERSON, N. J., July 8.—Two children were taken to the isolation hospital today suffering from infantile paralysis.

CASE IN LAWRENCE

LAWRENCE, July 8.—The first case of infantile paralysis in this city since the epidemic broke out in this city this morning was reported to the board of health today. The victim is Joseph Donahue, one year old, who has been under medical surveillance since July 4, but the condition of the child was so severe that a complete diagnosis could not be made until today.

The board of health has sent out circular letters to all practicing physicians and every effort will be made to stop the spread of the disease here.

SECOND CASE IN FALL RIVER

FALL RIVER, July 8.—A case of infantile paralysis was discovered in this city Thursday, the victim being Joseph Conroy, 5, of 153 Eagle street. As a result of the rigid investigation made by Agent S. B. Morris of the board of health announcement is made from the latter office that this is a strictly local case and that there is no connection whatsoever with the New York epidemic. The Conroy boy has been ill since June 21. This is the second case of infantile paralysis reported in a month. On June 8 a case was reported by this child has completely recovered. The health authorities consider this latest case as being well in hand, with little if any danger of the disease spreading.

VICTIM IN SHEFFIELD

SHEFFIELD, July 8.—A 9-year-old boy who arrived here from New York from Brooklyn, N. Y., died from infantile paralysis this evening. The state board of health has been notified.

QUARANTINE IN VERMONT

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 8.—A quarantine on children coming from Great-er New York to this state was declared by the state board of health in a ruling issued yesterday. Every child under 15 years, who has been in New York since June 20 must be duly reported to a health officer within 24 hours after coming to Vermont, and shall then be subject to two weeks' quarantine. Hotel managers and boarding house keepers are especially warned to see to it that this rule is enforced.

PITTSBURGH'S FIRST CASE

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—A case of infantile paralysis was reported to the health department yesterday and orders were immediately issued for the child's isolation. It is the first case this year, although 13 were listed in 1915.

ELEVEN CASES IN ILLINOIS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 8.—Two more cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the state board of health yesterday, bringing the total number of cases in the state to 11. Three cases have been reported from Chicago. One death has resulted.

FIVE CASES IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, July 8.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis hit Montreal yesterday, five cases being reported. City authorities have been in a campaign to keep the disease from gaining a foothold.

NEW BEDFORD OFFICIALS BUSY

NEW BEDFORD, July 8.—Health officials here announced today that they have taken measures to keep under surveillance children arriving here from New York and by instructions to the public they hope to prevent infantile paralysis from spreading to serious proportions.

There are three cases of the disease here, two of which the board of health declared, were reported June 13, before the epidemic in New York developed.

RUSSIANS PUSH ON

taunon on a level with the French line farther south, the French having pushed further ahead than their allies. This effort on the part of the British has led to the most furious fighting in which the British troops have been engaged. The flower of the German army has been brought forward to oppose them and guns and ammunition are being used lavishly.

Belgium Drained of Germans

According to reports from Holland, Belgium has been denuded of German soldiers to meet the Anglo-French offensive, and the railway stations, even in the larger towns, are guarded by the older reservists.

In London the reports of the British commander, Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, are awaited eagerly and although the arrival of wounded tells the price which is being paid in advance, the news of the small gains is being received with quiet satisfaction.

Fighting at Verdun

Notwithstanding the enormous call on German reserves for the battle in Picardy, the German crown prince has resumed the offensive at Verdun and yesterday made further repeated attacks near Thiaumont work without meeting any success.

Russians Make Gains

In the east things are moving more rapidly. The Russians are making progress in their drives against the important railway junctions at Delatyn in Galicia, Govel in Volhynia and Baranovitch, north of the Pripiet marshes. Little news has been received in regard to the fighting near Baranovitch. In Galicia and Volhynia, the Teutons admit the withdrawal of their line, the retreats having been forced by the rapid advance of the Russians in Galicia and the successful Russian new drive in Volhynia.

Advancing all along the line of the Lusk salient, the Russians are now threatening Kovel from three points. Capture of prisoners continues and, according to Russian estimates, the total for a month's fighting is not far short of a quarter of a million.

Desperate Fighting on Western Front During Last 24 Hours

BERLIN, July 8. (via London).—Today's news from the western front throws little light on the fighting during the last 24 hours, but the advances show that the fighting in the period immediately preceding was most intense at three points, at Thiepval, around Heen, and the region eight to ten miles south of the Somme river. In the Thiepval sector there was a succession of bitter attacks and counter attacks. The British several times succeeded by violent assaults in obtaining a foothold in Thiepval but each time were ejected from the ruins of the village. Their losses are described as "extraordinarily heavy."

The only British success, and this is declared to be unimportant, was the capture of a salient of German trenches east of La Boisselle, only a short distance east of the original German line. From La Boisselle southward the fighting was of a local character. The Germans have thrown a strong dam around the British flood wave and isolated attempts to break the dam have been unsuccessful.

The capture of the village of Heen was accomplished by the French only after three desperate attempts. The first two assaults, although delivered with great force and determination, were repulsed. The third assault gave them possession of the village and enabled them to straighten out their line between Curch and Feilders.

The fighting at Estrees and Bellon-Sauterres also was of a local character. The wave of battle swept back and forth with both French and Germans resorting chiefly to the use of the bayonet and hand grenades and fighting with the utmost desperation. The losses as to be expected in this sort of fighting, were very heavy. The French finally remained master of the village.

The German commanders have prepared for attempts by the French or British to extend the front of the offensive or for a renewed attack at new places on the long front but as yet no serious endeavor in this direction has been reported.

THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT ALSO ABANDONS THE DECLARATION OF LONDON

PARIS, July 8.—The French government, following the example of Great Britain, has abandoned the declaration of London as an interpretation of maritime international law. A decree to that effect appears in this morning's official journal.

A memorandum accompanying the decree says that the rules of the London declaration were adopted by the belligerent allies at the beginning of the war as being the most expedient, but that experience has shown that they did not give the naval experts, either in securing to belligerents a full exercise of rights or affording adequate guarantees to neutrals. Consequently, the memorandum continues, circumstances obliged the allies to modify the rules of the declaration. But these successive modifications had to take into account the wishes of neutrals, therefore they decided it was better to return to the original rules of international law as generally accepted.

In doing so, the memorandum concludes, the allies desire solemnly that they will continue to observe the principles rigidly, respecting lives and property of neutrals and being ready to make compensation for any unjustifiable damage caused to bona fide merchants.

ENGLAND STILL INCREASES VAST MUNITIONS OUTPUT—39 NEW ARSENALS

LONDON, July 8.—The question whether Great Britain can maintain an adequate supply of ammunition for the great drive was answered in part yesterday by Frederick G. Kellaway, M.P., secretary to Mr. Christopher Addison, who is Lloyd George's most important assistant in the ministry of munitions. Mr. Kellaway says:

"We are not yet at the full flood of our output of guns and shells. If the Germans cannot be driven home otherwise, our army shall have such a supply of guns that the Germans shall touch each other in a continuous line from the Somme to the sea."

He added that 39 new arsenals had been provided and that 4000 controlled firms are producing munitions. The total number of munition workers in 1914, he said, was over 2,000,000 and now there are 3,500,000. There are 666,000 women engaged in war industries.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IN CZAR-TORYSK REGION HAS BEEN PUSHED FURTHER

PETROGRAD, July 7. (via London, July 8, 12:30 p. m.).—The Russian advance in the Czartorysk region in which the attacking German troops were thrown back yesterday has been pushed further. The war office tonight announced the capture of the village of Dolzyce and Gruzdytn. The number of German and Austrian prisoners continues to increase.

The announcement follows: "Our troops continue to develop their successes west of the Czartorysk sector on the river Sura. Following the capture of the village of Grady and after a hot bayonet encounter, the village of Dolzyce on the main road between Kold and Manevitch and the village of Gruzdytn were taken. The number of German and Austrian prisoners continues to increase."

On the front south of the Stokhod river the enemy is maintaining a very violent fire in numerous sectors. North of the lower Lipa under cover of artillery fire the enemy attempted to take the offensive in the region of Scheklin and Dubovka but was repulsed. The artillery fire continues. The capture of the village of Grady and after a hot bayonet encounter, the village of Dolzyce on the main road between Kold and Manevitch and the village of Gruzdytn were taken. The number of German and Austrian prisoners continues to increase."

FRENCH WATCHING WITH ADMIRATION THE FIGHTING OF BRITISH TROOPS

PARIS, July 8.—The French are watching with admiration the fighting of the British troops in the sector north of the Somme river. The great natural and artificial difficulties with which they have to contend are realized and all agree that they are doing as much as man and machine are capable of.

French military opinion is that the German positions are strong and so well furnished by lines of communication that the British will be able to accomplish little more until the heavy French guns are installed beside the French salient when they can enfilade the German positions opposed to the British. As these guns of 305 and 400 millimetres are mounted on railroad trucks, time is required to lay the tracks for their movement, which has to be done carefully. The French are so solidly established that they are soon will be completed and it is asserted that these guns will not be long in making their influence felt.

KING GEORGE SENDS ARMY HIS CONGRATULATIONS IN MESSAGE TO GEN. HAIG

LONDON, July 8.—The following message was sent by King George to Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, commander of the British troops on the Franco-Belgian front:

"Please convey to the army under your command my sincere congratulations on the result achieved in the recent fighting. I am proud of my troops. None could have fought more bravely."

Gen. Haig, in replying, said: "All ranks will do their utmost to continue to deserve Your Majesty's confidence and praise."

FRENCH MADE FURTHER ADVANCE LAST NIGHT—SEVERAL HUNDRED CAPTURED

PARIS, July 8.—The French made a further advance last night on the Somme front in the vicinity of Belloy-en-Santerre and Estrees, the war office announced today.

The gains as a whole in this sector were not large, operations being hindered by bad weather. Several hundred prisoners were captured. On the Verdun front there was violent artillery engagements, particularly evening in the vicinity of Belloy-en-Santerre was in all respects successful. We captured 350 prisoners. To the east of Estrees our troops made progress with hand grenades in the communicating trenches of the enemy; fifty prisoners were taken by us.

"North of Lassigny a detachment of the enemy which was endeavoring to occupy one of our minor posts was dispersed by infantry fire."

"On the front north of Verdun there have been violent artillery fighting, particularly in the sectors of Hill 304, Esnes, Souville and at the Damouilly battery. There were, however, no infantry engagements."

"In Lorraine we cleaned up with hand grenades a German post near Rezainge and brought back a few prisoners."

BERLIN REPORTS RUSSIAN ATTACKS ON TROOPS OF PRINCE LEOPOLD REPULSED

BERLIN, July 8. (via London, 4:57 p. m.).—Heavy attacks by the Russians against German troops of Prince Leopold in the Baranovitch region have been repulsed with the loss of thousands in dead to the attacking forces, according to today's official war office announcement.

Russian assaults northwest of Buczacz in Galicia also were fruitless and in Volhynia the Germans gained advantages south of Lutsk.

REPUDIATE INDORSEMENT

Progressive National Committee Not Authorized to Indorse Hughes—Leaders Act

NEW YORK, July 8.—Matthew Hale of Boston, acting chairman of the progressive national committee, made public yesterday a statement to delegates of the progressive national convention criticizing the indorsement of Charles E. Hughes by the committee. He has conferred recently with Vane McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee. Mr. Hale said the indorsement was without authority from the delegates or the state organizations and without any attempt to get authority. He asserted that neither delegates to the convention nor members of the state organizations were consulted before

JOY AT CAMP WHITNEY

Boys Eager to Leave for Border —Lieut. Doyle of Lowell Selected to Accompany Recruits

The men at Camp Whitney, Framingham, are feeling proud as Lucifer, as with but very few exceptions they have not only got their uniforms, but also their full equipment, with the exception of the rifles, and now the time cannot fly too quickly for train time Monday for them.

Yesterday afternoon Col. Sweetser selected the following officers to accompany the recruits in the four sections: Capt. Michael J. Dee, Co. I, Concord;

The work of loading the camp equipment will commence tomorrow. The work of entraining the troops will commence on Monday morning and it is hoped to get the first section off at 9.30.

Camp Whitney Open Tomorrow

In view of the early movements of recruits at Camp Whitney, Col. Sweetser wishes it known that the camp will be open for visitors Sunday from 12 o'clock noon until 6 o'clock at night. The recruits are scheduled to leave the camp on Monday and many Lowell people are planning to visit the camp tomorrow.

Bread for Daily

They do tell that Lieut. Charles Duffy of Company C, Lowell, who has charge of the bread bakery at Camp Whitney, is turning out bread at the camp 50 per cent. below the price charged by government contractors and that it is almost as good as the bread mother used to make.

Salem and Pelham Soldiers

Gov. Spaulding of New Hampshire has sent out an appeal to the cities and towns of the state to furnish each its required quota of men to the militia of New Hampshire. The quota of Salem, N. H., is 10 men, and that of Pelham is four.

Lieut. C. Duffy of Company C says he will remove the lead from the bread tomorrow.

Chaplain Dussault of the Sixth Infantry is being kept very busy at camp looking after the soldiers' letters. He has been through this work during the Spanish-American war.

Sergt. Fred Fahy is now acting first sergeant of K company of the provisional regiment at camp.

The Company K non-commissioned officers held extra feeds in mess together, this being done through the generosity of Lowell friends, who have sent numerous boxes of goodies.

Corp J. Armistead is still wondering who is the young lady who sent the fudge to the order of Acting Sergt. Fahy.

The G. O. and 18 A.G.O. has been passed out to each "troop." This order covers sanitary instructions and was prepared by Capt. W. N. Tenney, M.C., M.A.M.

Corp. T. Egan has employed two of the Framingham detectives to help locate a large delicious pineapple which has mysteriously disappeared.

Sergt. D. Murphy of Company C is still to explain his new command, viz: "Company fall in, come on, Sullivan."

He claims, however, that this will be found in the 1930 regulations.

The boys of Orange and Athol are swearing by the non-commissioned officers of Company C.

Mr. Cass, a member of the Athol board of trade, says he never saw better food dispensed to military camps.

Corp. Egan says he misses the "Scotch Lassie."

Corp. King believes there is something the matter with himself, for he can't drill when she is around.

Between Cooks R. McKenzie and Bruce Barnes the men of Company G are feeding like kings.

Corp. Peters has hung a mirror on the front of his tent for the purpose of watching the growth of the "provisional" mustaches which he Corp. Gill and Corp. McQuestion are raising.

A few of the Lowell recruits of Co. M, Ninth regiment, who are to leave their quarters in South Framingham Monday for the Mexican border, were fortunate enough to obtain a short furlough yesterday on Monday and they visited their parents and other relatives in this city before starting on the long journey to Texas. Only a few Lowellites were able to get off long enough to come to this city on a farewell visit, however.

WANT BODY EXHUMED

BOSTON, July 8.—A petition asking that the body of Mrs. Emma E. Bostwick O'Donnell of Melrose be exhumed for an autopsy was filed late yesterday with District Attorney Pelletier by William B. Schanton, an attorney acting for the heirs of Mrs. O'Donnell, who died suddenly while on her wedding tour last Saturday. Mrs. O'Donnell had recently inherited a sum estimated at between 400,000 and 500,000. She and Dr. Louis P. O'Donnell, also of Melrose, were married at Melrose, Vt., on June 18, and last Saturday they left for San Francisco. Mrs. O'Donnell died on the train at Ulica, N. Y., after an attack of heart trouble. It was reported. She was 32 years of age. The body was buried Monday in Mount Hope cemetery, Melrose.

MEMORIAL TO DEAN TRAYER

BOSTON, July 8.—Judges, lawyers and personal friends of Ezra R. Trayer at the time of his death dean of the Harvard Law school, paid eloquent tribute to his memory yesterday at the memorial exercises at the Suffolk county court house. Lawyers who had known him, not only as a brother lawyer, but as a close personal friend, spoke feelingly of the friend, and all paid fitting tribute to his mental attributes and personal qualities.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT FAILS

Nelson Bailey, 66, of Everett, Shoots Self in Head at Methuen—On Dangerous List at Lawrence

LAWRENCE, July 8.—Nelson Bailey, 66, of 34 Liberty street, Everett, is on the dangerous list in the General hospital as the result of a self-inflicted bullet wound in his head. He was found yesterday in a field off Broadway, near the Spicket river in Methuen.

The bullet entered his chin, pierced the roof of the mouth and came out at the side of his nose. He was able to talk, and his reply to a self-inflicted wound in his head, he indicated that he was brooding over domestic troubles.

His family was notified and it was said that he had been missing since Wednesday.

AT ST. PETER'S

Communion Day of the Holy Name Society Promises to Be a Great Success

Tomorrow will be the regular communion Sunday of St. Peter's Holy Name society and the attendance is expected to be very large. The members will attend the 7.30 o'clock mass at which the Holy Name choir will render a special program. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Kleiser, who is also spiritual director of the society, takes a particular pride in the organization and confidently expects to have every man in the organization at communion tomorrow.

STRANGE PORTLAND STRIKE

PORTLAND, Me., July 8.—The strangest strike ever known here is now in force. Seventy laborers employed by the Cumberland County Power and Light company, went out early in the week without assigning a reason for doing so. They took away their tools and then came back, but did not trouble other men who took their places, and absolutely declined to assign a reason for their course.

TENNANT REFUSED A PEEAGE

LONDON, July 8.—Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary for war, yesterday refused a peage, offered to him by Premier Asquith, according to the Express. It is expected Mr. Tennant will be appointed secretary for Scotland.

That somebody has inquired as to responsibility in the event of an unlicensed jitney killing someone.

That women may be original, but the popularity of the same old awning stripes seems to indicate otherwise.

That some people would rather climb the stairs at city hall than to use the elevator. There's a reason.

That Nesmith street is as near looking like the first line trenches as anything we have seen in a long time.

That this year's application of oil is not so good as that of last year, and in some streets it does not dry in.

That the cartridge shops drew strongly from the ranks of the ornamental whose last excuse was gone.

That one reason why women want the ballot is so they can vote against women who become candidates for office.

That there is great rivalry between some of the members of Engine 2 and Hose 12, but it is of a friendly nature.

That a local police officer used unnecessary force yesterday in trying to drive a boy back from a crowd of persons.

That the road between Lowell and Lawrence is in tough shape at this end and just beyond the Methuen armory.

That certain Lowell motorists coming home a bit late a few evenings ago had an experience that cannot be published.

That the Lowell club scheme in other cities where any considerable number of Lowell people live is a happy thought.

That there should be no delay about that proposed playground in Davidson street. It is cheap and badly needed, and what more about it?

That Annie got a mixture of oil and dirt on her white skirt last Thursday afternoon while crossing Moody street in Pawtucketville.

That the housewife will consider it a favor if you wipe your feet instead of your chin after crossing a newly oiled street and entering her domicile.

That many people are beginning to realize that an automobile on a muddy thoroughfare can splash mud and street oil for a considerable distance.

That it does not take Judge Enright very long to determine whether a witness is telling the truth or lying, and he does not hesitate to make it known.

That the girls with the white shoes who visited the South common midway are wondering how they will ever get their shoes back to their original color.

That the Lowell boys at the Mexican border ought not to be kept waiting for money enough to provide them with a mess house and floors for their tents.

That many of those who persisted in their efforts "to take home a baby" on the midway went home without a baby.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

THE TREE DENTIST

Once upon a time Ned went to visit his uncle. He had wanted to go for a long time but he had to wait until his school had closed for his summer vacation and his mother was ready to take him. The day after they came his uncle said, "Ned, the tree doctor is coming today, do you want to go down in the orchard and watch him work?"

Ned didn't know what a tree doctor was and so he was very excited and told his uncle he wanted to go right away. They started down to the orchard and there, ahead of them was a man with an axe, a chisel and a big wooden mallet waiting for them.

First, he looked at every tree very carefully and if they needed to be doctored he put a stick of wood down in the ground, close beside the tree and then went to the next and so on until he had looked at all of them. Then he went back to the first tree and the tree doctor chopped and dug until all of the bad part was gone. Then, he filled it with cement and smoothed it over, and covered it with some soft stuff so the tree would grow well and strong again. The man was very kind to Ned and told him how the tree would grow new bark over the cement covered spot and be as good as it ever was. Ned thought it was very much like going to the dentist and having a tooth filled and told the man so, which made him laugh very hard.

When they came to a young tree the man told Ned he could try and fill this tree's tooth if he wanted. Ned, of course, Ned did. Ned carried some tools and helped the man until noon, when they went back to the house for some dinner. At night the doctor had finished with the trees and went home while Ned and his uncle went all through the orchard to see how the trees were standing the doctor told.

Ned's uncle told him that next year the trees would all be as good as new and now Ned is writing to you to have a doctor when they are sick and it does little boys and girls. I guess the doctor knows, don't you, even a tree doctor?

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

The liquid green soap treatment is excellent for eliminating the most stubborn case of blackheads and pimples. Before retiring cleanse the skin thoroughly with liquid green soap and a complexion brush. Then make a paste by mixing flowers of sulphur with spirits of camphor and cover the skin with it. In the morning remove the sulphur with tepid water and a bland soap and apply to the face a lotion made of equal parts of rosewater and glycerin.

If you find that the pimples do not respond to this treatment and remain hard it will be necessary to open them and effect the secretion which causes the irritation. This requires a great deal of care, for if done hastily and improperly large pores will be the result. First soften the skin by holding cloths wet with warm water against it for at least five minutes.

Next take a fine needle and sterilize it by dropping it into alcohol and boiling water. Lance each pimple with the needle and press it gently, placing a piece of antiseptic gauze over the fingers to extract the secretion. Immediately apply a drop of camphor to contract the hole and then apply a paste made of lanoline, five-eighths ounce; almond oil, five-eighths ounce; sulphur precipitate, five-eighths ounce; oxide of zinc, five-eighths ounce; violet extract, one-half dram to mix properly, combine the sulphur and zinc with the oil in a smooth paste, melt the lanoline in a cup placed in hot water and gradually add it to the other mixture. The violet extract being added last. This should be applied at night and allowed to remain on until morning.

The following is also an excellent cream to be rubbed on the face when there is a tendency to pimples: Beta naphthol, one gram; sulphur precipitate, ten grams; pinch soap, ten grams. In case this should prove irritating to the skin wipe the face with toilet vinegar to counteract the effect.

HATTERS TO LOSE $30,000

Decision Awarding Them Interest on Attached Savings Deposits is Reversed by U. S. Court

DANBURY, Conn., July 8.—Word was received here yesterday afternoon that the United States circuit court of appeals in New York city has handed down a decision reversing a decision of the United States district court, awarding the accrued interest upon the attached savings bank accounts of the defendants in the Danbury hatmakers' case to the United Hatters of North America.

Both the United Hatters and D. E. Loeve & Co., plaintiffs in the case, claimed the $30,000 interest upon the deposits under attachment. The district court decided that the money should be paid to the union. The court of appeals holds that the interest is but an incident to the principal and consequently should go to the person who is entitled to the principal.

STOLEN BICYCLE LOCATED

Paul Brunelle, of 57 Pond street, had a bicycle stolen from him one year ago last March and although the police recovered the two wheels it was alleged that the frame had been thrown into a pond. While passing through Central street last night, Brunelle recognized a bicycle frame as that belonging to him and when the matter was brought to the attention of the police he was able to prove his property. It appears that two wheels had been attached to the frame and then sold to the man in whose possession it was found.

TWO MINOR FIRES

An alarm from box 22 at 5.05 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to Grand street, near Chelmsford street, where an automobile belonging to Dr. R. J. McCuskey caught fire. Crossed wires near the crank case made a short circuit which was responsible for the blaze. The fire was quickly extinguished and little damage was done to the machine.

The members of Hose 12 were called to the Aiken street dump about eight o'clock last night to extinguish a fire. The blaze was started by mischievous boys as usual. After about an hour's work the fire was extinguished.

but is fifth in runs and has made more errors than any club except Chicago. The Cubs lead the league in runs; are second in hits but have marred this record by making more errors than any of their rivals. The New York Giants are second in runs, third in hits and fourth in errors. St. Louis is tied for third place in run making and by a peculiar coincidence have made exactly the same number of hits being tied for fourth place in this department of the game.

Brooklyn is sixth in run making, fourth in hitting and has other clubs have made less errors than the pennant winning Superbas. Philadelphia and Boston are respectively seventh and eighth in runs and hits but the Braves have a decided advantage over the Phillies as they have less errors than any other team in the league while the Philadelphia players have been charged with more errors than Boston, Pittsburgh, St. Louis or New York.

The complete records of the sixteen clubs in the American and National leagues from April 12 to July 1 show in games played, won, lost, runs, hits, errors, men left on base and opponent's runs, are as follows:

Dowell Taking Second. Dowell batted third. He was killed by Kane's throw to short center and Kane's throw to the plate nailed Dowell. No runs.

Eighth Inning

Lewell: Killheun singled past third base. Second lined out to Swarth. Third of second. Kane got a base on balls, but was caught at second on Torphy's grounder. Killheun taking third, Torphy being safe at first. Then Jensen slid out to Longman. No runs.

Longman: Longman was thrown out at first by Torphy. Gaston got a base on balls. Martin singled to left, Gaston going to second. Clemens beat out a infield hit and Gaston scored on fielder's bad throw. Martin scored on fielder's out. Greenhalge to Brownough. Clemens going to second. Brownough a base on balls. Dowell died to Torphy. Two runs.

Ninth Inning

Lewell: Strimpon singled over sec-

games with Portland and Owner Roach is anxious to have them played off.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Joe Jackson has taken the lead among the batters of the American league and for the first time since the season got well under way. Speaker is out of first place. Averages published here today show that Speaker, who is the first to make one hundred hits, has done so 252 times at bat in 75 games, including 140 runs, for a percentage of .350. Jackson in 65 games has been at bat 252 times and made 96 hits, a percentage of .380. In round numbers Jackson has taken the lead in batting from Speaker also in total bases with 140, but Tris retains the pace in runs scored with 56. Cobb leads in stolen bases with 30 and Edges in doubles with 12. Dugan has the lead in triples with 17. "Home Run" Baker is in front in his specialty with seven. Detroit leads the clubs in batting with .255. The ten leading batters, including those who have played less than half the games of the other clubs, are:

doubtful if there is any first baseman in any league that has a single on the Cuban. Jose Rodriguez stands head and shoulders over the first baseman the Eastern league at the present time or any the England league had in the past. He can get throws anywhere. No man where the infielders toss the ball is there ready to go into the dirt on either side. If he can't get hands on the sphere, one will do it with a stick like mine. On MELBOURNE, Australia, July 1.—The third federal loan for war is floated before August 1, though not proposed this time to ask for a fixed amount. On the occasion of the first loan, the government asked $25,000,000 and it received $5,000,000; and on the second occasion $66,000,000 was asked for and the response was $105,000,000.

A feature of the Austrian train is the surprising number of women who travel on the races. Thousands of them crowded to the part-mutuel book on Derby day, feverishly betting on the ten and twenty horses starting in the race and justly making millions after each race to the pay-off box. The women, too, furnished a sight not common on an American race track for countless numbers of them sit about the paddock, or leaned against the rail smoking cigars after the

MONKEYS EXPECTED TO HELP IN SAVING
BABIES IN FIGHT ON INFANTILE PARALYSIS

ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTE - MONKEY MAY SAVE CHILD

Thoroughly alarmed by the spread of infantile paralysis among the children of New York city and the peril of its attacking the children of other communities (others have already been affected) the federal authorities offered to the city the aid of the federal health service. Dr. Haven Emerson, city health commissioner, asked the acting surgeon general to obtain, if possible, the release for shipment to the United States of 100 monkeys in the Philippines. In its efforts to solve the all important problem of how infantile paralysis is "carried," the department of health and co-operating research agencies are seriously embarrassed by a shortage of monkeys. The monkey is the only animal upon which tests to identify the mediums of communication of the disease can be made. The Rockefeller Institute, however, which was established by John D. Rockefeller to fight infantile paralysis after his young grandson died of the disease, has 100 monkeys collected in the Philippines ready for shipment. Because of disease among animals on the islands there has been an embargo on their exportation. This is why the monkeys have not come to New York. If the efforts of the public health service are successful in having the embargo raised, so far as the monkeys are concerned, although the animals will not arrive for some weeks, Dr. Emerson believes that the scientists of the federal government, of the Rockefeller Institute and of other research bodies will be able to make great headway in solving the problem of who and what are the most dangerous "carriers" of infantile paralysis.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Irregular price changes at the opening of today's market but were mostly within very narrow limits. The principal copper section became fairly active at month's end, with a few contracts being completed in an uncertain market. WHEAT AND OATS CROP

GROWING CONDITIONS DURING THE MONTH OF JUNE IMPROVED
THE PROSPECTS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Growing conditions during June improved the prospects of the wheat and oats crops. The department of agriculture in its July crop report today forecast that combined crop of winter and spring wheat at 755,000,000 bushels, which is 44,000,000 bushels more than predicted last month, and increased the estimate of the crop of oats to 217,000,000 bushels, or 52,000,000 bushels more than forecast in June.

A slight increase in the area planted to corn this year was reported in a crop of 2,886,000,000 bushels, which with favorable conditions might exceed last year's 3,058,000 bushel record crop, was forecast. The slightly better corn was reported as conditionally better than last year's, but only about two per cent, below the 10-year average production for July 7.

Potatoes this year are growing on slightly smaller acreage than last year but their condition indicates a crop of 309,000,000 bushels, or 10,000,000 bushels more than last year. Indications are that the tobacco production will be a record one.

LOWELL SOLDIERS AT EL PASO GETTING READY FOR CAMPAIGN NEW IRISH PARLIAMENT

Corp. Haggerty of Co. M Tells of Trip to Border

Great Ovarions En Route
—Conditions in the Army Camps

Special to The Sun

EL PASO, Tex., July 4.—In less than two weeks' time, 12½ days to be exact, Lowell, ever ready to do her part, placed sixty-six of her city's finest in the very midst of the Mexican trouble—within 300 yards of the Mexican outposts as they patrol back and forth along the boundary. For such a sudden change from the "well watered" climate of New England to the broiling hot alkali plains of the south without a single case of real sickness in the whole contingent speaks well both for the officers who make the sanitary rules and the men themselves who follow instructions to the letter not, however, without a great deal of discomfort.

Trip to Border

The trip to the border was full of interest from start to finish and highly instructive. From state to state entered in their "war" diaries the different cities they passed through, their various industries, the condition of the climate, the nature of the soil, the principal incidents and the sights they saw. They also have several pages of addresses of "friends" they met along the way, and it will cost the first month's pay to most of us if we answer all the cards we promised.

Speaking of friends I might mention that the Massachusetts boys have a great many through the south. Every place we passed through, the people gathered in hundreds at the stations and we were welcomed like heroes, and while we sojourned the keys of the towns were ours. The greatest reception of all was probably received at Springfield, Mo., and that city will always be remembered and praised by every guardman that passed through in the Young Men's Business Club, similar to our board of trade. It has several former New England business men among its members.

Great Ovarions

When the train stopped and the companies detained for exercise, they were met by a committee of several hundred men who distributed fruit, soft drinks, post cards already stamped and numerous other things, and with out any limit as to supply. The soldiers took a little walk around the town for exercise and were much impressed with it. We stopped at two different rivers, the Anglaise, in Missouri and another in Oklahoma where we were allowed about three-quarters of an hour for a swim and to see the way as all took to water you would think it was to our last dip. In New Mexico we passed through the mountains and the scenery was wonderful.

From Belton, New Mexico, to El Paso it was a gradual decline, with the temperature gradually increasing and the bare stretches of the desert and cactus plants becoming more and more frequent until at about 5.30 p. m., or at 5.30 Lowell time, we arrived at El Paso. I must say that most of us were surprised at what we saw. Instead of the little one-story shacks that we had been seeing all the way down, there were big six and eight-story buildings, all lighted up with electricity like a regular city. El Paso has a population of about 45,000, but there are about three Mexicans to two Americans. However, most of the Mexicans are peaceful citizens and are in sympathy with the American soldiers. It was about 8.30, however, before we reached our camping grounds and pitched our "pop" tents in the dark.

I must admit our first impression of the place was entirely discouraging, but after a good night's sleep and a view of the place by day we changed our opinion and rather like the look of it now.

The Outlook

To the west at a distance of about three miles Mt. Franklin rises up into the sky. This is one of a chain which runs around to the north and east of El Paso and forms a sort of a large amphitheatre, on the side of which lies the city itself. To the south across the Rio Grande by the long straight plains of Mexico with clumps of trees scattered here and there and the city of Juarez to the south-east Juarez makes quite a picture at night with its electric lights reflecting upon the white-walled buildings of the city. It looks more like a Parisian park, or some other resort at a distance. Lines of sentries patrol the border and the international bridge a hundred

STOTT BLOCK IS SOLD FOR SUM OF $80,000

Ziskind and Cohen the Purchasers — $65,000 Improvements Planned — Another Purchase

One of the biggest real estate deals effected in this city for a long time will be put through within a few days, the first papers binding the bargain between the owner and the purchasers having been signed. The property involved in this sale is the Stott block, a large brick structure located at the junction of Thorndike and Middlesex streets. The owner is Elizabeth W. Stott, while the purchasers are David Ziskind and Sam Cohen, two prominent business men of this city. The price to be paid for the building is $80,000, while one of the prospective purchasers, Mr. Ziskind, stated this morning that he and his partner will spend about $65,000 to enlarge and improve the property.

The Stott building is a large four-story brick structure with street or front stores on the street floor and offices, flats and manufacturing plants on the other floors. The land area is 10,200 square feet, while the assessed valuation of the entire property is $51,400, the land being assessed at $2.10 per square foot.

The sale is being made through the office of Abel R. Campbell, and a few days ago Charles Stott, representing his mother, came all the way from Minneapolis, Minn., to sign the first papers. The title of the property is now being looked up and as soon as this is finished the final papers will be signed.

Mr. Ziskind in conversation with a Sun reporter this morning said his ambition is to improve Lowell. He said he is doing more business in Lawrence in his particular line, but his home is in Lowell, and Lowell is his city. Speaking about the Stott property he said as soon as the final papers are passed a four-story brick structure will be erected adjoining the present building at a cost of about $65,000. This will consist of stores and business offices, there being a large demand for the latter in that district. The old building will be improved and the flats and manufacturing apartments will be converted into business offices. Several thousand dollars will be expended in improvements.

In addition to the purchase of the Stott building Mr. Ziskind recently purchased another large piece of property located in Goyham street opposite the postoffice. This is a two-story brick structure and was purchased from the Smith estate. The building will be raised two stories and the two days now in the building will be converted into business offices. The two new stories will also be occupied by business offices. The price paid for the Goyham street property was $12,000 and between $15,000 and $20,000 will be expended on additions and improvements.

Mayor O'Donnell Asks Lowell Public to Assist Him in Raising Five Hundred Dollars

Mayor James E. O'Donnell issued a strong appeal today to the public of Lowell in behalf of the Lowell boys of Company M now on the Mexican border. The boys want $500 with which to build a mess house and put floors in their tents. The mayor has the interest of all the Lowell soldier boys at heart and he makes the following appeal to the public for the boys of Company M in order that the necessary money may be forthcoming as quickly as possible:

The Mayor's Statement
On Thursday, of this week, the following telegram was received at the mayor's office:

El Paso, Texas,
July 6, 1916.
James E. O'Donnell, Mayor,
Lowell, Mass.

Would it be possible to get a committee to raise $500 to build a mess house for the company, and floors in tents. Every other company has $1000 from the city. Please wire answer.

D. E. Christian,
Commanding Co. M, 5th Mass.,
Chief Camp Cotton, Texas.
In reply to the above, I wired that I would take immediate steps to raise the amount.

NATION WIDE FIGHT TO STOP PARALYSIS

United States Experts in New York to Aid Battle on Epidemic—Fewer Fatalities Today Than Yesterday—18 Died in Last 24 Hours—Cases Reported From Many Cities

NEW YORK, July 8.—Although this was the hottest day since the beginning of the epidemic of infantile paralysis, two weeks ago, there were fewer fatalities from the disease than there were yesterday. During the 24 hours preceding 10 o'clock this morning, the plague killed 18 children in the greater city. Thirteen of these died in Brooklyn.

Ninety-five new cases of the disease were reported in the five boroughs.

During the week just ending there were 125 deaths, 105 of this number from Brooklyn. More than 800 cases were reported.

The falling off in the number of fatalities and in new cases during the last three days, although only slight, is regarded as favorable by health experts. There were 24 deaths during the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, 22 on Friday and 18 today.

That not 50 per cent of the cases reported to the health authorities as infantile paralysis are genuine is the statement made today by Dr. Thomas Darlington, formerly president of the board of health.

An urgent appeal for more doctors and nurses was made by the Brooklyn board of health.

RUSSIANS CONTINUE TO DRIVE BACK TEUTONIC LINES IN EAST

Entente Allies on Western Front are Handicapped by Heavy Rains—Notable Progress for Russians in Volhynia and in Galicia—Formidable German Resistance Between Riga and Volhynia—Berlin Reports Russian Attacks on Troops of Prince Leopold Repulsed

While the entente allies on the western front have been temporarily handicapped by heavy rains in the further pushing of their offensive, the Russians under Gen. Brusiloff are continuing to drive back the Teutonic lines in the east.

Further notable progress has been made by the Russians in Volhynia, where their movement upon the important railway center of Kovell is gaining in force. Today's Petrograd announcement shows them at Grusiatyne, 30 miles southwest of Kovell.

Further north their lines have been pushed forward to Delyca, on the main road from Kovell to Maniewice station on the Kovell-Barny railway, the capture of which by the Russians was reported yesterday.

New Russian Advance

In Galicia, where General Count von Bothmer was recently compelled by Russian pressure to fall back to the line of the Koropiec, a dozen miles west of the Stripa, a new advance of the Russians is reported.

Formidable German Resistance
Between Riga and Volhynia, the Germans are developing more formidable resistance to the new Russian offensive and some recession of the Russian lines in the Lake Narocz region, south of Dvinsk, is admitted. The battle near Baranovichi is still raging with little change in positions.

To Join Lines

In the field of the western offensive of the allies a rainy night was employed chiefly by the British in strengthening the positions they won yesterday in their drive to bring their lines up to a level with those of the French on their right flank.

French Gain Ground

Heavy French guns now being brought up are counted on to assist a further advance of the British by pounding the southerly side of the German salient south and east of Contalmaison.

The French were busy with minor operations last night on the Somme front, making a successful surprise attack near Belloy-en-Santerre and gaining ground east of Entrees in hand grenade operations. They report the capture of 400 additional prisoners.

Activity at Verdun
There has been violent artillery activity in the Verdun sector but no resumption of infantry attacks.

BERLIN REPORTS REPEATED ALLIED ATTACKS REPULSED WITH HEAVY LOSSES

BERLIN, July 8, via London, 4:55 p. m.—German troops on both sides of the Somme in the field of the entente offensive along the western front have repulsed with heavy losses repeated attacks by the British and French, the war office announced today.

The German artillery, machine gun and infantry fire had a devastating effect upon the huge masses of attacking forces as indicated by the enormous numbers of dead left before Ouliers, Contalmaison and other points attacked by the allies, the bulletin declares.

The official statement regarding operations on the western front says: "On both sides of the Somme our heroism and tenacity prepared for the enemy a day full of delusions. Numerous and continually repeated attacks were repulsed with sanguinary losses. The enormous number of fallen Englishmen before the Ouliers-Contalmaison-Bazentin Le Grand sector, and of fallen Frenchmen before Baches-Soyecourt front, give an indication of the masses of enemy forces employed for the attacks and of the devastating effect of our artillery, machine gun and infantry fire."

BABY IS EXPOSED TO INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Three Weeks Old Baby in Home of the Present Victim—Case is Reported in Lawrence Today

SYMPTOMS OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Fever accompanied by stomach and bowel trouble.
Discharge from nose and throat.
Dullness and irritability.
Pains start in the lower limbs and sometimes along the spine.
Paralysis follows frequently within 24 hours.
If death does not result the patient is frequently helpless for life, never really recovering.

PRECAUTIONS TO BE TAKEN

Since health is no protection, cleanliness should be insisted upon.
Keep the nose and throat clean.
Report all suspicious cases to the board of health.
Keep those afflicted isolated.
Remove everything possible from the sick room. Carpets and hangings should be removed before the patient is put in the room.
Air the sick room well several times daily.
One attendant is best.
Discharges from the nose and throat should be received on a handkerchief which should be burned at once or immersed in a 2 per cent solution of carbolic acid.
All clothing and bed linen used by the sick person should be immersed in the carbolic solution before they are removed from the sick room.

No new cases of infantile paralysis have been reported at the office of the board of health at city hall. The case of Arkoudoula Maricou, aged 1 year, and living at 51 Fenwick street, is the only one on record in Lowell and it was stated today that the little patient is doing as well as can be expected.

This case was reported by Dr. Marshall T. Ailing and at the time the information was given out at the board of health office yesterday it was not known if there were other children in the Maricou family. It has since been ascertained that there is a three-weeks-old baby in the family and in view of the easily communicable nature of the disease it is feared that the baby may not escape. The health authorities state, however, that there have been cases in this city where only one in a family of several children was stricken, but they agree that there may be different grades of the disease, some more contagious than others.

There was a case of infantile paralysis reported in Lawrence today and the state health authorities expect several cases in this state derived from the epidemic in New York, for it is said that, like the typhoid germ, that of infantile paralysis is known to be carried by persons in perfect health and without knowledge of the fact that they are carriers of the deadly germ.

CITY HALL NEWS

Looks Like Increase Instead of Decrease in Tax Rate

The assessors of taxes are not holding out any hope for a reduction in Lowell's tax rate this year. When a reduction in the state tax was announced the belief prevailed that there was a reduction of at least 50 cents in sight, but figures obtained at the assessors' office at city hall today disprove that inspiring belief.

The assessors are now wise to all charges in connection with the state.

READY FOR VILLA BANDITS THE BORDER DIFFICULTIES

U. S. Troops Held in Readiness to Move to Any Point on Border That Might Be Threatened

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 8.—For more than 200 miles eastward from El Paso American troops were being held in readiness today to move to any point on the border that might be threatened by the newly organized bandits in Chihuahua.

Early morning reports to Gen. Funston added nothing, however, to the rumors of yesterday most important of which was the warning from the de facto government of Mexico that bandits, who defeated Carranza's soldiers near Jimenez were believed to be moving northward toward Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, Tex.

Although taking all precautions and not minimizing the reports that Villa himself is the head of the new organization of bandits, army officers today were not inclined to believe the bandits would attempt any movement in force towards the north, especially if led by Villa. The opinion of army officers generally was that the bandits would confine their activity for a time to harassing the Carranza troops south of Chihuahua City.

THE EXCESSIVE HEAT

YESTERDAY'S TEMPERATURE REPEATED TODAY—ELECTRIC STORM PREDICTED

Lowellites sweated in the hottest weather of the summer yesterday and while the thermometer at the Locks & Canals registered 92 at noon the mercury in some of the glasses in other sections of the city shot up around the century mark. At two o'clock this afternoon the thermometer at the Locks & Canals reached the 88 mark while one in Merrimack square, which was protected from the rays of the sun showed 93.

Although yesterday was a scorching day was equally as warm and the humidity was higher, making it very uncomfortable. According to a person who keeps a daily record of the temperature yesterday and today were the first days since the excessive heat spell last September when the mercury went over the 90 mark.

The weather man has given us a half promise that we may expect a little cooler weather either tomorrow or Monday for he predicts that there is a storm on the way. The storm reached Portland this afternoon and according to telegraphic information it is working its way towards the south. Therefore don't get discouraged for a rain storm will in all probability give a little relief.

The excessive heat of yesterday was nearly equalled this morning and by the time the people were going to work there was every indication that the hot wave was still on. The humidity was oppressive and the mercury in the thermometer kept pace with it, reaching when it reached its highest point.

Many people were affected by the heat, but up to the time of going to press no prostrations were reported. One of the coolest places in the Sun, which is located on the tenth floor, where there is a breeze on the hottest day.

MOTOR TRUCK IN BUSINESS

The fruiterer, gardener and dairyman can market fifty miles away from home by using a motor truck as easily as eight miles with horses.

This fact is an excellent illustration of what a truck will do, not only for farmers, but other classes as well. With horses the farmers were confined to a limited territory in disposing of their products. Using trucks gives them a wider area of operation, more competitive buying and hence better prices.

And with merchants it is equally plain that trucking business by extending the delivery area. The retail business man with a truck may choose his customers from many more people than formerly, because he can profitably reach a family at least four times farther away than his most remote patrons of the horse haulage days.

With good roads constantly extending, manufacturers, jobbers, supply men and others are substituting motor haulage for the railroad on short cross-country hauls. This method saves at least two handlings of the product and is quicker, safer and cheaper service.

These are but a few reasons why motor truck manufacture is so prosperous. People have learned that trucks make money by actually getting new trade, as well as save money through superior dependability. The first four months of 1916 showed an increase of more than 400 per cent.

Word of Carranza's Decision as to Form of Negotiations Expected at Washington Tonight

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Word of General Carranza's decision as to the form of negotiations for the settlement of border difficulties should take, was expected at the state department today. No advice reached the Mexican embassy on this point early in the day, nor had any communication come from Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City.

It is thought probable the de facto government will authorize Eliseo Arredondo, ambassador designate here, to talk matters over informally with Acting Secretary Polk. The general form of an agreement could be framed in this way and later formally ratified. This would save time and reduce the chances of misunderstanding.

The Washington government has indicated a desire for quick action in reaching a conclusion and since Carranza is understood to hold the same views, there is reason to suppose the conferences will be in progress next week.

Officials anticipate that the Carranza government will again offer the border cantonment plan which first was presented at the El Paso conference between Maj. Gen. Scott and the Mexican war minister, Gen. Obregon. It was rejected at that time because of the immediate withdrawal of Gen. Pershing's men from Mexico was stipulated by Gen. Obregon as a condition. If it is renewed without that stipulation it appears likely it will prove acceptable.

Further report on the fight in which bandits overwhelmed a Carranza force near Corral Negro, southern Chihuahua, was looked for today by Mr. Arredondo, and the state department to which he promised to communicate the information. Of greatest interest to officials was the question of whether the outlaw band included Francisco Villa, and whether it is bound for the American border to make another raid, the possibility of which Carranza mentioned in a special communication to the American government yesterday.

War department officials expressed doubt whether any bandit force would attempt another attack on Columbus, N. M., and pointed out that the distance from Corral Negro to the nearest border point, the Big Bend district of Texas, is 155 miles, and the route is over a desert. Preparations will be made to guard against any possible attack, however.

ANTI-CARRANZA SENTIMENT IN PORTIONS OF SONORA

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 8.—Anti-Carranza sentiment is becoming apparent among residents in portions of Sonora, as a result of the friendly tone of the last note sent to Washington, according to Mexicans reaching here yesterday from Naco, 75 miles south of the border. Naco, they said was crowded with refugees from the United States and from the interior of the state.

SENDS PRISONER HOME

Judge James M. Morton, Jr. of U. S. District Court, furnished money to pay fare to Springfield.

BOSTON, July 8.—Judge James M. Morton, Jr. of the United States district court put his hand down in his pocket yesterday and furnished a poor prisoner with enough money to take him home to Springfield. The prisoner was Kazimir Trekowski, who got mixed up on an attempt to cash a forged money order.

Trekowski, who does not speak English, came up for sentence, the court wanted an investigation to determine Trekowski's guilt of which some doubt was entertained. Pending investigation, Judge Morton ordered Trekowski released.

On learning that he did not have enough money to take him home, the judge furnished the funds.

ments that go to establish the tax rate with the exception of overlays and they will not cut a very wide swath. The rough spots encountered on the road to the tax rate include city appropriations, Textile school appropriations, state tax, state highway tax, state grade crossing tax, state audit of municipal accounts and county tax.

The city appropriations for 1916 totaled $1,747,955, as compared with $1,656,000 in 1915, an increase over last year of $91,955. The Lowell Textile school appropriation showed an increase this year of $238,500 over last year, the appropriation this year being $342 as against $894 last year.

The state tax rate this year, however, shows a reduction of $38,400 as compared with last year, the amount this year being $181,920 as against $190,320 last year.

The state highway tax shows an increase of $11.75, the amount being $513.83 as against $782.28. The grade crossing tax shows a decrease of $302.83, the figure last year being $784.72 as compared with $481.89 this year.

It cost $728.60 more to audit the municipal accounts in 1915 than in 1916, the amount paid this year being $97,57 as against $112,357 last year. There was also a reduction in the county tax this year of $911.49, the amount being $95,040.30 as against $96,951.79 last year, so that the total increase this year, up to the overlays, is $91,427.57 and the decrease $42,067.32, a difference of $49,384.85 in last year's work unless the assessors can make up extra valuation. Lowell's tax rate for 1916 will be somewhere in the vicinity of 50 cents higher than the present tax rate of $20.60.

Measles Subsidizing

The measles epidemic is subsidizing, but there are still too many cases remaining. The total number of cases reported this week at the office of the board of health was 66 as against 82 last week and 99 the previous week. The total number of deaths this week from measles was 29, as against 25 last week and 29 the week before. The death rate for the week was 14.19 as compared with 11.12 and 14.19 for the two previous weeks.

The number of deaths this week under five years of age was 12. There were three deaths from infectious diseases, one from acute lung trouble, one from diphtheria and two from tuberculosis. The number of cases of infectious diseases reported was as follows: Scarlet fever 2, measles 65, infantile paralysis 1, and tuberculosis 6.

Health and Safety

The following letter from Agent Bates of the board of health to Mayor O'Donnell is self explanatory:

Lowell, Mass., July 6, 1916.

Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Mayor, and Board of Public Safety, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:

The board of health at its regular meeting held July 5, 1916, discussed the subject matter of your letter of recent date to the superintendent of police, concerning the enforcement of ordinances relative to public health and safety.

They feel that your introduction of this subject is opportune and should be commended and feel that if your suggestions and recommendations are carried out, much good will be accomplished along the lines of public health and safety.

The members of the board have had a number of complaints, especially against fruit dealers, who by their method of handling and depositing of decayed fruit, vegetables and other waste material, such as paper, upon the streets and sidewalks, are causing their premises thereby causing much annoyance to public travel.

While much has been done by the health inspectors to remedy the matter, the board feels that if the police officers who patrol sections where in such conditions exist, would exercise their authority, the sanitary conditions would be improved.

It would be adopted by the dealers in caring for and disposing of such waste material.

Yours very respectfully,

F. A. Bates, Agent.

The hand concert on the North common tomorrow will be between 8 and 10 o'clock in the evening instead of between 3 and 5 in the afternoon as previously arranged. The concert at 8 o'clock will be between 3 and 5 o'clock.

MOTOR POKER

Motor poker sounds like an interesting game, if only for its connection to a distinguished relative. It has many devotees and is becoming more and more popular with the unfortunate destined to assist in the wearing out of the sidewalks.

The new law on are in a company and several pennies ahead of the world, watch the licenses of passing motor cars.

You pick the first car, let friend No. 1 have the second, and friend No. 2 the third. You bet a penny a point on your hand. You proceed exactly like poker, except you do not draw, face cards are absent, and zero is an ace and high.

The first license number that passes we'll say is 2942.

A measly pair of twos is what you hold.

A regal limousine goes floating by bearing a tag of 40601.

and your pair of deuces has ceased to exist.

The third draw is up, an a loose jointed truck bearing the marker 56537.

brings friend No. 2 a straight and the prosperity that goes with two round coppers.

The winner picks the first car in the next play and the game proceeds as before.

The game is plainly sinful, but the next time you have to walk, try it for pleasure, and perhaps for profit.

The time will fly more swiftly, your walk will seem shorter and you will be in a more cheerful mood for the task that awaits you.

HOSE 12 CALLED OUT

The members of Hose 12 were called to extinguish a slight fire in the plankmill of the Aiken street bridge at 12:35 o'clock this afternoon. The fire was caused by some person carelessly throwing a lighted cigar stub on the flooring of the bridge.

ing for an immediate notification of any cases. The special state district health officers are to cooperate with the cities.

The local board of health has received a copy of the commissioner's letter and the following is an excerpt: "The commissioner of health believes it could be wise to warn you of conditions in order that you might be on the lookout for any cases coming into your community. This applies particularly to any suspicious cases of illness coming from New York City. If such cases are discovered, it will be wise to establish a careful isolation and quarantine control."

It is stated in the communication that only 100 cases were reported from all over Massachusetts in the month of June and the commissioner concludes by stating that the state department will be glad to assist the local board in preventing importation and spread of the infection.

Guarding Against the Disease

In a statement with reference to the infantile paralysis scare, Commissioner Mahoney said:

"Infantile paralysis is an acute infectious disease, and is to be feared not only on account of the great danger to life, but because in many cases where a patient survives it leaves him disabled for life."

"A permanent paralysis or greatly impaired functions of the arms and legs are the most common results. This disease attacks people of all ages, but the greatest incidence is always among children, especially those in the first half decade in life."

"Instructions are issued, so that the people may be on guard against the disease. The room used by the patient should be as nearly free from furniture as possible. Carpets, and hangings should be removed before the patient is placed in the room. Toys and books used by the sick person should be thoroughly disinfected or destroyed after recovery or death. The sick room should be well aired several times daily."

"When practicable, one attendant should take entire care of patient, and no one else besides the physician should be allowed to enter the room. Cats, dogs and other animals should be excluded."

"Discharges from the nose and mouth should at once be burned or immersed in a 2-per cent solution of carbolic acid."

"All clothing and bed clothes used by the patient should be soaked two or three hours in carbolic acid solution before being taken from the room, then boiled in water and soap suds for 15 minutes."

DEATH CAR CASE

Evidence That Death of Miss Ward Took Place in Boston

BOSTON, July 8.—Evidence that the death of Miss Margaret Ward of Peabody, whose body was found in an automobile in Salem last Wednesday morning, took place in this city and was due to illegal medical practice, was presented to the Suffolk county grand jury yesterday. According to information from the office of District Attorney Pelletier, who is conducting the investigation, it is believed that an operation was performed upon the young woman in a house which has been definitely located in the central part of the city; that she was afterward removed to a house on Warren street in the Roxbury district, and that she was dead when placed in the automobile.

The witnesses yesterday included Medical Examiner Atwood of Essex county, police officer, and relatives of the dead woman. Dr. John J. Shanahan, Charles R. O'Connell, an attorney and former state representative, and Thomas Sexton, all of Peabody; James O'Connell of Lynn; George Barlow of Boston and William Conlin of Salem, all of whom are under arrest, were excused from testifying, although they appeared at the court house ready to answer questions. Two young women, Gertrude and Rhonda Pittfield, sisters, who have also been arrested in connection with the case, declined to testify by advice of counsel.

POWDER MILL EXPLOSION

ONE MAN KILLED AND A SCORE INJURED AT DU PONT POWDER CO. PLANT

WILMINGTON, Del., July 8.—One workman was instantly killed and a score or more of others slightly injured today in an explosion in the Hagley plant of the Du Pont Powder Co., in Henry Clay, near here. A corn mill in which 600 pounds of blasting powder had been stored exploded, and the explosion was so violent that it shattered the mill and destroyed the building. The explosion occurred at about 10 o'clock, and the cause of it is not known.

NATION WIDE FIGHT

health department today. The absence of many doctors on their vacations and with regiments at the border has made it difficult, the department said, to get volunteers.

Assistant Surgeon General W. C. Rucker of the federal public health service, came today from Washington to confer with the local health officers and directed the six experts assigned by the national government to help combat the epidemic. The federal experts will concentrate their efforts upon preventing the spread of the disease to other states.

The epidemic here has cast its shadow in many places. Children under 16 have been barred not only from moving picture shows but from all the amusements at Coney Island, except those in the open air. Sixteen playground streets were closed today and the opening of 39 more was delayed.

The children's rooms in the public libraries and all playgrounds and lots were closed. Oil will be sprinkled on the surface of the park playgrounds to make them as dustless as possible.

How the Epidemic Has Grown

The number of deaths is given by dates on which they occurred and not by dates on which they were reported. Hence there were some on July 7 which had not appeared here. The number of cases is in some instances approximate.

French women have so successfully demonstrated their efficiency since the outbreak of the war as substitutes for the men at the front that, from a small beginning in clerical service and light duties on the railways, their employment has now spread to every department except operation and maintenance. Among their duties are patent and clerical ticket and freight office work, care of platforms, lamps and lighting service, cleaning stations, cars and engines and transferring freight between cars and freight depots.

NONE IN BOSTON—SIX IN STATE
BOSTON, July 8.—This city is without trace of infantile paralysis and only six cases had been reported officially in the state up to noon today, according to records at state and local health offices. The cases reported were scattered, and none that one being noted in any place, and none of which was connected with the New York epidemic, it was stated. Unofficial reports of other cases increased the number in this state to ten.

The state health officials have taken various precautions against the spread of the disease. A camp at North Stockbridge, to which children from New York are sent, has been placed under quarantine by local authorities and a request made that it be discontinued when the children now there return home.

OUTBREAK IN NEWARK
NEWARK, N. J., July 8.—One death, the second this week, two new cases, making eight this week, and two suspected cases, is this morning's report of the infantile paralysis outbreak in Newark.

ANOTHER CASE AT NEWPORT
NEWPORT, R. I., July 8.—Another case of infantile paralysis has been reported to the board of health and a special meeting of that body has been called. Of the two cases discharged as last week, one has been recovered. The two present cases are light.

Men of the naval training station have been ordered to keep their families away from moving picture shows, while the apprentice seamen have been quarantined to their station. The naval authorities have been given as a matter of precaution and recruits will be guarded against contagion from other cities as well as Newport.

CASE IN HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, July 8.—A case of infantile paralysis was discovered in this city this morning by Dr. F. A. Sullivan, who reported it to the board of health, and Agent George T. Lennon immediately took all precautions to prevent its spread. The patient is Daniel Evans, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Evans. The origin of the disease cannot be traced. The family has not been out of the city for several months.

TWO CHILDREN STRICKEN
PATERSON, N. J., July 8.—Two children were taken to the isolation hospital today suffering from infantile paralysis.

CASE IN LAWRENCE
LAWRENCE, July 8.—The first case of infantile paralysis in this city since last December was reported to the board of health today. The victim is Joseph Dunahue, one year old, who has been under medical surveillance since July 4, but the condition of the child was so severe that a complete diagnosis could not be made until today.

The board of health has sent out circular letters to all practicing physicians and every effort will be made to stop the spread of the disease here.

SECOND CASE IN FALL RIVER
FALL RIVER, July 8.—A case of infantile paralysis was discovered in this city this morning by Dr. F. A. Sullivan, who reported it to the board of health, and Agent George T. Lennon immediately took all precautions to prevent its spread. The patient is Joseph Dunahue, one year old, who has been under medical surveillance since July 4, but the condition of the child was so severe that a complete diagnosis could not be made until today.

VICTIM IN SHEFFIELD
SHEFFIELD, July 8.—A 9-year-old boy who arrived here Thursday night from Brooklyn, N. Y., died from infantile paralysis this evening. The state board of health has been notified.

QUARANTINE IN VERMONT
BURLINGTON, Vt., July 8.—A quarantine on children coming from Great-er New York to this state was declared by the state board of health in a ruling issued yesterday. Every child under 15 years, who has been in New York since June 20 must be duly reported to a health officer within 24 hours after coming to Vermont, and shall then be subject to two weeks' quarantine. Hotel managers and boarding house keepers are especially warned to see to it that this rule is enforced.

PITTSBURG'S FIRST CASE
PITTSBURG, July 8.—A case of infantile paralysis was reported to the health department yesterday and orders were immediately issued establishing a close quarantine. It is the first case this year, although 13 were listed in 1915.

ELEVEN CASES IN ILLINOIS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 8.—Two more cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the state board of health yesterday, bringing the total number of cases in the state to 11. Three cases have been reported from Chicago. One death has resulted.

FIVE CASES IN MONTREAL
MONTREAL, July 8.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis hit Montreal yesterday, five cases being reported. City authorities have begun a campaign to keep the disease from gaining a foothold.

NEW BEDFORD OFFICIALS DUSY
NEW BEDFORD, July 8.—Health officials here announced today that they have taken measures to keep under surveillance children arriving here from New York and by instructions to the public they hope to prevent infantile paralysis from spreading to serious proportions.

RUSSIANS PUSH ON

taunau on a level with the French line further south, the French having pushed further ahead than their allies. This effort on the part of the British has led to the most furious fighting in which the British troops have been engaged. The flower of the German army has been brought forward to oppose them and guns and ammunition are being used lavishly.

Belgium Denuded of Germans

According to reports from Holland, Belgium has been denuded of German soldiers to meet the Anglo-French offensive, and the railway stations, even in the larger towns, are guarded by the older reservists.

In London the reports of the British commander, Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, are awaited eagerly and although the arrival of word tells the price which is being paid in advance, the news of the small gains is being received with quiet satisfaction.

Fighting at Verdun

Notwithstanding the enormous call on German reserves for the battle in Picardy, the German crown prince has resumed the offensive at Verdun and yesterday made further repeated attacks near Thiaumont work without meeting any success.

Russians Make Gains

In the east things are moving more rapidly. The Russians are making progress in their drives against the important railway junctions at Delatyn in Galicia, Govel in Volhynia and Baranovich, north of the Pripiat marshes. Little news has been received in regard to the fighting at Baranovich. In Galicia and Volhynia, the Teutons admit the withdrawal of their line, the retreats having been forced by the rapid advance of the Russians in Galicia and the successful manner in which they dealt with the German counter-offensive in the Lutsk sector. According to unofficial reports, Delatyn is surrounded on three sides and the Russians, having cut the easternmost lines of retreat across the Carpathians, are on the flank of the Austrians' new defensive lines running through Stanislaw and Ialoz, general von Bothmer may be compelled to fall back even further before he reaches safety.

Russians Threaten Kovel

Advancing all along the line of the Lutsk salient, the Russians are now threatening Kovel from three points. Capture of prisoners continues and, according to Russian estimates, the total for a month's fighting is not far short of a quarter of a million.

DESPERATE FIGHTING ON WESTERN FRONT DURING LAST 24 HOURS

BERLIN, July 8 (via London).—Today's news from the western front shows little light on the fighting during the last 24 hours, but the advices show that the fighting in the period immediately preceding was most intense at three points, at Thiepval, around Hem, and the region eight to ten miles south of the Somme river. In the Thiepval sector there was a succession of bitter attacks and counter attacks. The British several times succeeded by violent assaults in obtaining a foothold in Thiepval but each time were ejected from the ruins of the village. Their losses are described as "extraordinarily heavy."

The only British success, and this is declared to be important, was the capture of a salient of German trenches east of La Boisselle, only a short distance east of the original German line. From La Boisselle southward the fighting was of a local character.

The Germans have thrown a strong demand around the British front and isolated attempts to break the dam have been unsuccessful.

The capture of the village of Hem was accomplished by the French only after three desperate attempts. The first two assaults, although delivered with great force and determination, were repulsed. The third assault gave the possession of the village and enabled them to straighten out their line between Curlu and Feilneres.

The fighting at Estrees and Belloy-Santerre also was of a house to house and hand to hand character. The wave of battle swept back and forth with both French and Germans resorting chiefly to the use of the bayonet and hand grenades and fighting with the utmost desperation. The losses as to be expected in this sort of fighting, were very heavy. The French finally remained masters of Belloy.

The Germans apparently have prepared for attempts by the French or British to extend the front of the offensive or for a renewed attack on various places on the long front but as yet no serious endeavor in this direction has been reported.

THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT ALSO ABANDONS THE DECLARATION OF LONDON

PARIS, July 8.—The French government, following the example of Great Britain, has abandoned the declaration of London as an interpretation of maritime international law. A decree to that effect appears in this morning's official journal.

A memorandum accompanying the decree says that the rules of the London declaration were adopted by the entente allies at the beginning of the war as being the most expedient, but that experience has shown that they did not give the results expected, and in securing no efficient or adequate guarantees to neutrals. Consequently, the memorandum continues, circumstances obliged the allies to modify the rules of the declaration. But these successive modifications led to false interpretations of the allies' motives, therefore they decided it was better to return to the original rules of international law as generally accepted.

In doing so, the memorandum concludes, the allies declare solemnly they will continue to observe the principles of neutrality, respecting lives and property of neutrals and being ready to make compensation for any unjustifiable damage caused to bona fide merchants.

ENGLAND STILL INCREASES WESTERN MUNITIONS OUTPUT—60 NEW ARSENALS

LONDON, July 8.—The question whether Great Britain can maintain an adequate supply of ammunition for the great drive was answered in part yesterday by Frederick G. Edlaway, M.P., secretary to Dr. Christopher Addison, who is Lloyd George's most important assistant in the ministry of munitions. Mr. Edlaway says:

"We are not yet at the full flood of our output of guns and shells. If the Germans cannot be driven home otherwise, our army shall have such a supply of guns that the limiters shall touch each other in the continuous long from the Somme to the sea."

He added that 99 new arsenals had been provided and that 4000 controlled firms are producing munitions. The total number of munition workers in 1914, he said, was over 2,000,000 and now there are 3,500,000. There are 600,000 women engaged in war industries.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IN CZAR-TORYSK REGION HAS BEEN PUSHED FURTHER

PETROGRAD, July 7, via London, July 8, 12.30 p. m.—The Russian advance in the Czartorysk region in which the attacking German troops were thrown back yesterday has been pushed further. The war office tonight announced the capture of the village of Dolzyecz and Gruziatyn. The number of German and Austrian prisoners continues to increase.

"Our troops continue to develop their successes west of the Czartorysk and capture of the village of Grady and after a not very long encounter, the village of Dolzyecz on the main road between Kolki and Manevichi and the village of Gruziatyn were taken. The number of German and Austrian prisoners continues to increase."

"On the front south of the Stokhod river the enemy is maintaining a very violent fire in numerous sectors. North of the lower Dnipro under cover of artillery fire the enemy attempted to take the offensive in the region of Schkein and Dubova but was repulsed. The artillery fire continues."

"Southeast of Lake Narocz (south of the Dvinsk) the Germans made a fierce counter-attack and reconquered part of the trenches they lost yesterday. The fighting continues on a considerable part of the front and between the upper Nemen and the Dvina, where there were violent artillery duels."

FRENCH WATCHING WITH ADMIRATION THE FIGHTING OF BRITISH TROOPS

PARIS, July 8.—The French are watching with admiration the fighting of the British troops in the sector north of the Somme river. The great natural and artificial difficulties with which they have to contend are realized and all agree that they are doing as much as humanly possible.

The French military opinion is that the German positions are strong and so well furnished by lines of communication that the British will be able to accomplish little more until the heavy French guns are installed inside the German salient when they can enfilade the German positions and the British, as these guns of 355 and 400 millimeters are mounted on railroad trucks, time is required to lay the tracks for their movement, which has to be done carefully. The French are so solidly established that the work soon will be completed and it is asserted that these guns will not be long in making their influence felt.

KING GEORGE SENDS ARMY HIS CONGRATULATIONS IN MESSAGE TO GEN. HAIG

LONDON, July 8.—The following message was sent by King George to Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, commander of the British troops on the Franco-Belgian front:

"Please convey to the army under your command my warmest congratulations on the success of the battle of the Somme."

"The British army has shown the most magnificent courage and determination in the face of the most desperate fighting. The British army has shown the most magnificent courage and determination in the face of the most desperate fighting. The British army has shown the most magnificent courage and determination in the face of the most desperate fighting."

FRENCH MADE FURTHER ADVANCE LAST NIGHT—SEVERAL HUNDRED CAPTURED

PARIS, July 8.—The French made a further advance last night on the Somme front in the vicinity of Belloy-Santerre and Estrees, the war office announced today.

The gains as a whole in this sector were not large, operations being hindered by bad weather. Several hundred Germans were captured.

On the Verdun front there was violent artillery engagements, particularly in the districts of Hill 304, Esnes and Souville.

The text of the statement follows: "Bad weather hindered the operations on the Somme front yesterday afternoon and last night. A surprise attack delivered by the French yesterday evening in the vicinity of Belloy-Santerre was in all respects successful. We captured 350 prisoners."

To the east of Estrees our troops made progress with hand grenades in the communicating trenches of the enemy; fifty prisoners were taken by us.

"North of Lassigny a detachment of the enemy which was endeavoring to occupy one of our minor posts was dispersed by infantry fire."

"On the front north of Verdun there has been violent artillery fighting, particularly in the sectors of Hill 304; Esnes, Souville and at the Damouville battery. There were, however, no infantry engagements."

"In Lorraine we cleaned up with hand grenades a German post near Reznange and brought back a few prisoners."

REPUDIATE INDORSEMENT

Progressive National Committee
Not Authorized to Indorse
Hughes—Leaders Act

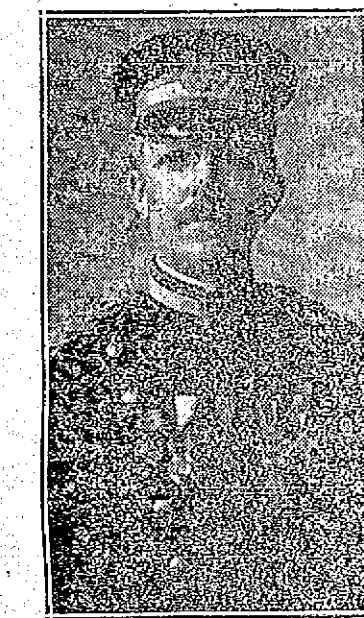

NEW YORK, July 5.—Matthew Hale of Boston, acting chairman of the progressive national committee, made public yesterday a statement to delegates of the progressive national convention criticizing the indorsement of Charles E. Hughes by the committee. He has conferred recently with Vance McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee. Mr. Hale said the indorsement was without authority from the delegates or the state organizations and without any attempt to get authority. He asserted that neither delegates to the convention nor members of the state organizations were consulted before the republican candidate was indorsed by the national committee.

JOY AT CAMP WHITNEY

Boys Eager to Leave for Border
—Lieut. Doyle of Lowell Selected to Accompany Recruits

The men at Camp Whitney, Framingham, are feeling proud as Lieut. Doyle, as with but very few exceptions they have not only got their uniforms, but also their full equipment, with the exception of the rifles, and now the time cannot fly too quickly for train time Monday for them.

Yesterday afternoon Col. Sweetser selected the following officers to accompany the recruits in the four sections: Capt. Michael J. Dee, Co. I, Concord;

LIEUT. THOMAS W. DOYLE

Capt. Arthur N. Payne, Co. F, Marlboro; Capt. Duncan M. Stewart, Co. H, Stoneham; Lieut. Charles E. Aked, Co. G, Lowell, all of the Sixth infantry.

Plans for Entertainment
Other officers who will go are Lieut. Thomas A. Ireland, Co. H, Stoneham; Capt. Porter E. Chase, Cadets; Capt. H. Cushing, Sixth company, C.A.C.; Lt. Edwin M. Brush, Cadets; Lieut. Cyrus H. Stowell, 1st company, C.A.C.; Lieut. Fred H. Rogers, Co. A, Sixth, Wakefield; Lieut. George H. Prescott, Co. I, Sixth, Concord.

Up to date the four sergeants that are ordered to accompany the sections have not been selected, nor have the non-commissioned officers. This afternoon Col. Sweetser asked for volunteers from the Cadets for this duty.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

THE TREE DENTIST

Once upon a time Ned went to visit his uncle. He had wanted to go a long time but he had to wait until his school had closed for his summer vacation and his mother was ready to take him. The day after they came his uncle said, "Ned, the tree doctor is coming today, do you want to go down in the orchard and watch him work?"

Ned didn't know what a tree doctor was and so he was very excited and told his uncle he wanted to go right away. They started down to the orchard and there, ahead of them was a man with an axe, a chisel and a big wooden mallet waiting for them.

First, he looked at every tree very carefully and if they needed to be doctored he put a stick of wood down in the ground, close beside the tree and then went to the next and so on until he had looked at all of them. Then he went back to the first tree and the tree doctor chopped and dug until all of the bad part was gone, then he filled it with cement, as it does little boys and girls. I smoothed it over, and covered it with some soft stuff so the tree would grow well and strong again.

The man was very kind to Ned and told him how the tree would grow new bark over the cement covered spot and be as good as it ever was. Ned thought it was very much like going to the dentist and having a tooth filled and told the man so, which made him laugh very hard.

When they came to a young tree the man told Ned he could try and fill this tree's tooth if he wanted to and, of course, Ned did. Ned carried some tools and helped the man until noon, when they went back to the house for some dinner. At night the doctor had finished with the trees and went home, while Ned and his uncle went all through the orchard to see how the trees were standing the following day.

Ned's uncle told him that next year the trees would all be as good as ever and now Ned is waiting to see if it really does trees as much good as it does little boys and girls. I guess the doctor knows, don't you, even a tree doctor?

WANT BODY EXHIBED

BOSTON, July 5.—A petition asking that the body of Mrs. Emma E. Dostwick O'Donnell of Melrose be exhibited for an autopsy was filed late yesterday with District Attorney Felleiter by William R. Scharton, an attorney acting for the heirs of Mrs. O'Donnell, who died suddenly while on her wedding tour last Saturday. Mrs. O'Donnell had recently inherited a sum estimated at between $50,000 and $50,000. She and Dr. Louis P. O'Donnell, who were married at Brattleboro, Vt., on June 28, and last Saturday they left for San Francisco. Mrs. O'Donnell died on the train at Ulster, N. Y., after an attack of heart trouble. It was reported. She was 52 years of age. The body was buried Monday in Mount Hope cemetery, Melrose.

MEMORIAL TO DEAN THAYER

BOSTON, July 5.—Judges, lawyers and personal friends of Ezra R. Lawyers who had known him, not only as a brother lawyer, but as a close personal friend, spoke feelingly of the friend, and all paying tribute to his mental attributes and personal qualities.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT FAILS

Nelson Bailey, 66, of Everett, Shoots Self in Head at Melrose—On Dangerous List at Lawrence

LAWRENCE, July 5.—Nelson Bailey, 66, of 34 Liberty street, Everett, is on the dangerous list in the General hospital as the result of a self-inflicted bullet wound in his head. He was found yesterday in a field off Broadway, near the Spicket river in Melrose.

The bullet entered his chin, pierced the roof of the mouth and came out at the side of his nose. He was able to talk and his reply to the police as to why he shot himself indicated that he was brooding over domestic troubles.

His family was notified and it was said that he had been missing since Wednesday.

AT ST. PETER'S

Communion Day of the Holy Name Society Promises to Be a Great Success

Tomorrow will be the regular communion Sunday of St. Peter's Holy Name society and the attendance is expected to be very large. The members will attend the 7:30 o'clock mass at which the Holy Name choir will render a special program. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Keeler, who is also spiritual director of the society, takes a pardonable pride in the organization and confidently expects to have every man in the organization at communion tomorrow.

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

The liquid green soap treatment is excellent for eliminating the most stubborn case of blackheads and pimples. Before retiring cleanse the skin thoroughly with liquid green soap and a complexion brush. Then make a paste of sulphur and camphor and cover the skin with it. In the morning remove the sulphur with tepid water and a bland soap and apply to the face a lotion made of equal parts of rosewater and glycerin.

If you find that the pimples do not respond to this treatment and remain hard it will be necessary to open them and eject the secretion which causes the irritation. This requires a great deal of care, for if done hastily and improperly large pores will be the result. First soften the skin by holding cloths wet with warm water against it for at least five minutes.

Next take a fine needle and sterilize it by dropping it into alcohol or boiling water. Lance each pimple with the needle and press it gently, placing a piece of antiseptic gauze over the fingers to extract the secretion. Immediately apply a drop of camphor to contract the hole and then apply a paste made of lanoline, five-eighths ounce; almond oil, five-eighths ounce; sulphur precipitate, five-eighths ounce; oxide of zinc, five-eighths ounce; violet extract, one-half dram. To mix properly, combine the sulphur and zinc with the oil in a smooth paste, melt the lanoline in a cup placed in hot water and gradually add it to the other mixture. The violet extract being added last. This should be applied at night and allowed to remain on until morning.

The following is also an excellent cream to be rubbed on the face when there is a tendency to pimples: Beta naphthol, one gram; sulphur precipitate, ten grams; polish soap, ten grams. In case this should prove irritating to the skin wipe the face with toilet vinegar to counteract the effect.

HATTERS TO LOSE $30,000

Decision Awarding Them Interest on Attached Savings Deposits is Reversed by U. S. Court.

DANBURY, Conn., July 5.—Word was received here yesterday afternoon that the United States circuit court of appeals in New York city has handed down a decision reversing a decision of the United States district court, awarding the accrued interest upon the attached savings bank accounts of the defendants in the Danbury haters' case to the United Hatters of North America.

Both the United Hatters and D. E. Loewe & Co., plaintiffs in the case, claimed the $30,000 interest upon the deposits under attachment. The district court decided that the money should be paid to the union. The court of appeals holds that the interest is but an incident to the principal and consequently should go to the person who is entitled to the principal.

STOLEN BICYCLE LOCATED

Paul Brunelle, of 57 Pond street, had a bicycle stolen from him one year ago last March and although the police recovered the two wheels it was alleged that the frame had been thrown into a pond.

While passing through Central street last night Brunelle recognized a bicycle frame as that belonging to him and when the matter was brought to the attention of the police he was able to prove his property. It appears that two wheels had been attached to the frame and then sold to the man in whose possession it was found.

TWO MINOR FIRES

An alarm from box 32 at 5:05 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to Grand street, near Chelmsford street, where an automobile belonging to Dr. E. J. McCuskey caught fire. Crossed wires near the crank case made a short circuit which was quickly extinguished and little damage was done to the machine.

The members of Hogs 12 were called to the Aiken street dump about eight o'clock last night to extinguish a fire. The blaze was started by mischievous boys as usual. After about an hour's work the fire was extinguished.

MAJOR LEAGUE RECORDS LOWELL LOSES TO DUFFS

Interesting "Dope" on Pennant
Race in the Big Show—Yankees
Lead Run Getters

NEW YORK, July 8.—Records compiled from the box scores of major league games from the opening of the season to July 1, furnish some interesting data for comparison of the work of the various teams in the two leagues. In the American league the New York club, which heads the pennant race, leads in total number of runs scored; is fourth in hitting and has made more errors than five of the rival contenders. Cleveland is second in runs and hits and the Yankees, Detroit is third in run making; first in hits and third in the least number of errors. St. Louis is third in hits; fourth in runs and with the New York club is tied for sixth place in error making.

Washington and Chicago have made about the same number of runs and hits but the White Sox have made less errors than any of the other clubs of the junior league. Boston while playing with fewer errors than any club except Chicago is well down the list in batting and run scoring. The Philadelphia Athletics last in hits and runs and have piled up more errors than any of the other flag contenders.

In the National league Cincinnati has made the greatest number of hits

DIAMOND DAZZLES

John McGraw made another offer for Slim Sallee after the double beating by the Sugarbush on the fourth. The St. Louis club has declined to sell the left-hander, but has asked for players in exchange. With this request McGraw finds it difficult to comply.

Miller Huggins has branched a trade to the Cincinnati club, offering to give the Sugarbush and the left-hander, but has asked for players in exchange. With this request McGraw finds it difficult to comply.

Arthur Devlin, one time third baseman of the Giants, has signed to play that position for the Rochester Internationals. Devlin has been keeping in good condition, and early this season was manager of the Havana State league.

Tommy Leach has had a hard time filling the third base position this season. Beatty and Babbington, once giant rookies, failed to make good and in desperation Leach himself, who in his early days was a case of falling from the frying pan into the fire. This will appear most to those who have been treated in Louisville in ye merry summer time.

Hughes Jennings has done a little leaping up. Bobby Watt, Columbia second baseman, who signed with the understanding that he was to go to Buffalo to finish the season, has been named out to Newport News of the Virginia league. Pitcher Roehrer has gone to Louisville. Pitcher Davis is out with a bad arm. Pitcher Erickson, former Giant, has been sent to San Francisco—but Ty Cobb keeps merrily on.

In reply to Charley Ebbers' charge, that Boston pitchers have been using the "bean ball" against the Superbas, George Stallings says:

"The Brooklyn players came over from New York on the same train with a week ago, and in the Grand Central station in New York, before boarding the train, Maranville, Smith and Ebbers' pitchers, boasted of how he had hit the Giants down by using the 'bean ball'."

"In the games that Brooklyn played here, Pfeffer, his most effective pitcher, and Magee, Maranville, Smith and Ebbers' dodging, and ducking continually. Konechky was hit by a pitched ball in the first game.

"In view of these facts (this wait does not come with good grace from Mr. Ebbers)."

Twilight baseball was inaugurated in the west last Monday, when Peoria played at Davenport in the evening.

A new "outlaw" league has been organized. Massachusetts conscripts form the clubs. They say they have some catch players, but there's a string attached to every one of them, so, Connie Mack, keep away.

Marty McFall has decided that as a pitcher he is fine singer. His release by Cleveland convinced him.

Leo Fohl, as a cure for wildness, recommends glasses for Lowdermilk. Yet many's the pitcher who has suffered because of too many glasses.—New York Sun.

No one can blame Bill Donovan for smiling now. Even Hank O'Day might coax his face into a smile if he suggested a team that was moving as briskly as the Yankees.

Dec Johnston, Pittsburgh first baseman, is due for a minor league berth in the near future. Warders have been asked on the Pirates and it is said that every other major league club has complied with the request. Johnston has not been hitting and has been benched in favor of Bill Hinchman. For Ed Barney, whom Pittsburgh has released to Louisville, it's a case of falling from the frying pan into the fire. This will appear most to those who have been treated in Louisville in ye merry summer time.

Lefty Henderson Hit Hard at Portland—The Game Was Loosely
Played—Score 10 to 6

Special to The Sun
PORTLAND, Me., July 8.—In a very, very sloppy, uninteresting game at Bayside park, yesterday afternoon, Portland was adjudged victor over Lowell by the score of 10 to 6. Very crude errors marked the fielding of both teams and the fast traveling Duffs were even worse offenders than their visitors.

Frank Mayberry was pitching for Portland until two runs had been scored in the fifth, with none out and then George Martin finished the afternoon's work with two runs being scored on his delivery in the ninth inning when, with one on, Helfrich let loose a ball into left field which was lost in a rough piece of ground long enough to make it impossible for Brown to get it back to the plate in time to shift off what went for a home run.

On the mound for the visitors was Henderson who was treated roughly by the Duff batsmen.

The game by innings:

First Inning
Lowell: Stimpson singled out to Burns. Greenough grounded out to Dowell. Robinson singled between third and short. Helfrich was safe on first on a wild throw by Loneragan. Robinson going round to third. Kilhullen fled out to Sweet.

Portland: Clemens bounced one off the plate and was thrown out at first by Kilhullen. Burns got a base on ball. Burns stole second. Brown drew a pass. Dowell doubled to the fence at left, scoring Burns. Sweet drove a sacrifice fly to Kane in center, Brown scoring. Tamm singled to left. Dowell scoring from second. Tamm took second on the throw-in. Loneragan singled to second, scoring Tamm. Loneragan was caught attempting to steal second. Henderson to Greenough to Torphy. Four runs.

Second Inning
Lowell: Greenhalge was safe on first on Tamm's bad throw. Kane scratched a hit into the infield, and he went to second and Greenhalge to third when Lowell threw wild to Mayberry, who covered first. Torphy drove a sacrifice fly to Burns, scoring Greenhalge. Henderson grounded out to Dowell. Kane taking third. Kane scored and Stimpson was safe on first, when Sweet failed to handle the latter's grounder. Greenough fled out to Burns. Two runs.

Portland: Gaston doubled to the sack. Mayberry singled out to Kilhullen. Burns fled out to Kane. No runs.

Third Inning
Lowell: Kilhullen fled out to Burns. Helfrich flied out to Gaston. Kilhullen singled between third and short. Brown made a nice running catch on Greenhalge's drive to left. No runs.

Portland: Brown fouled out to Greenough. Dowell fouled out to Stimpson. Sweet was hit by a pitched ball. Sweet was forced to second on Tamm's grounder. Helfrich to Greenhalge. No runs.

Fourth Inning
Lowell: Gaston made a nice catch of Kane's foul fly. Torphy fled out to Loneragan. Henderson went out at first, Dowell to Mayberry. No runs.

Portland: Loneragan struck out. Gaston singled. Mayberry walked. Mayberry was forced at second on Clemens' grounder. Torphy to Greenhalge. Burns singled to center, scoring Gaston. Clemens going to second. Clemens scored and Burns went to second when Kilhullen's throw to left caught Burns on third went to left. Brown fouled out to Kilhullen. Two runs.

Fifth Inning
Lowell: Stimpson singled through the box. Greenough tripled to the fence on right, his grounder bounding over Clemens' sad. Stimpson scored. Greenough scored when Clemens dropped Robinson's fly to right. Mayberry was taken out and Martin sent in to pitch. Helfrich fled out to Clemens. Robinson was forced at second on Kilhullen's grounder. Kilhullen beating a throw to first. Kilhullen went to second on a passed ball. Greenhalge fled out to Dowell. Two runs.

Portland: Dowell got a base on balls. Sweet tripled to the fence on left, scoring Dowell. Tamm got a base on balls. Loneragan fled out to Stimpson. Gaston was safe at first, and Sweet scored when Torphy dropped Greenhalge's throw of Gaston's grounder in an attempted double play. Martin hit into a double play, Helfrich making Tamm between second and third and completing the play by throwing to Greenough ahead of Martin. Two runs.

Sixth Inning
Lowell: Kane went out. Sweet to Dowell. Gaston dropped Torphy's high fly in front of the plate. Henderson struck out. Stimpson fled out to Tamm. No runs.

Portland: Clemens fled out to Kane. Burns tripled to the fence on right. Burns was caught off third. Kilhullen to Helfrich. Brown flied out to Greenough. No runs.

Seventh Inning
Lowell: Greenough struck out. Robinson singled over third. The inning ended with a fast double play. Tamm taking Robinson and Sweet, completing the play to Lowell. No runs.

Portland: Dowell singled. Sweet was thrown out at first by Henderson.

Lowell taking second. Dowell stole third. Tamm fled to Kane in shame called Kane's throw to the plate called Dowell. No runs.

Eighth Inning
Lowell: Kilhullen singled past third. Greenhalge lined out to Sweet. back of second. Kane got a base on balls. But was caught at second on Torphy's grounder. Kilhullen taking third. Torphy being safe at first. Henderson fled out to Loneragan. No runs.

Portland: Loneragan was thrown out at first by Torphy. Gaston got a base on balls. Martin singled to left. Gaston scored. Clemens beat out and Gaston scored on Helfrich's bad throw. Martin scored on Burns out. Greenhalge to Greenough. Brown got a base on balls. Dowell fled to Torphy. Two runs.

Ninth Inning
Lowell: Stimpson singled over second. Greenough grounded out to Dowell. Stimpson going to second. Robinson fled out to Burns. Helfrich drove the ball to the left field for the circuit, and Stimpson ahead of him. Kilhullen fled out to Brown. Two runs.

The score:

Clubs	Played	W.	L.	Tied	R.	H.	E.	L.B.	O.R.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Eddie Henderson did not come back. Robinson, the new outfielder, made a good showing. He is a fast man and has kept in condition by playing Saturday games.

"Kid" Greenough drove out a three-bagger. Helfrich also cracked out a drive that went for a home run.

Lowell plays a double header at Portland this afternoon. It looks like Lohman and Zieser for the box work.

Manager Cleo O'Donnell of the Lawrence league team will be seen here for the first time Monday. O'Donnell is procuring some new material in an effort to give the down-river fans better baseball. Longstreet, who played several games under Burkett, is to return.

It is reported that Hugh Duffy of the Portland team is to sign up Harry Lord to play third base. Duffy thinks Lord will make a good driver card for him as he belongs in the Maine city. It is said that Tamm is to be let go.

As was expected, Alex Pearson has been released by Hartford. Alex says there was some difference between him and Owner Clarkin relative to his salary. He is not a free agent and is considering an offer to play in Maine.

The real financial standing of the Eastern league will be learned at the meeting of the directors to take place Tuesday in Worcester. It is understood that one of the things to be discussed is the salary of the Lawrence players. From past indications where Eastern league will finish out the season with possibly one or two changes.

Owner Roach of the Lowell club would like to secure Frank Kane, the Providence outfielder who was loaned to the Lawrence club. It is said Kane is satisfied with Lawrence.

Managers Kilhullen and Duffy yesterday made arrangements for a double-header to be played here next Tuesday. From past indications where Eastern league will finish out the season with possibly one or two changes.

Eddie Henderson of Lowell is a much better conversationalist than a pitcher. But if he were a real good comedian he'd be getting more money on the vaudeville stage.—Lynn Telegram.

Jim Keady, the umpire in the Eastern league, made the all-Massachusetts prep school football teams of 1907-8-9-10 and the next year he captained the St. Paul team. He was instrumental in defeating University of Arizona and New Mexico and incidentally winning the southwestern championship among the colleges. He likewise played on the championship Southwestern Federation basketball team. He next appeared in the role of right half at Lehigh where he played a star game. He made the touchdown against Yale last fall, Yale winning by the scant margin of 7 to 6.

Displaces Speaker in Am. League—Robertson Heads Nat. League

CHICAGO, July 8.—Joe Jackson has taken the lead among the batters of the American league and for the first time since the season got well under way Tris Speaker is out of first place. Average published here today show that Speaker, who is the first to make one hundred hits, has done so in 263 times at bat in 72 games, including Wednesday's percentage.

Speaker, in 68 games, has been at bat 352 times and made 96 hits, a percentage of .3095. In round numbers Jackson's average is .381 to Speaker's .350.

Speaker has taken the lead away from Speaker also in total bases with 140, but Tris retains the pace in runs scored with 55. Cobb leads in stolen bases with 50 and Eddie Collins has tied Vitti, Detroit, for the lead in sacrifice hits with 19. "Home Run" Baker is in front in his specialty with seven. Detroit leads the clubs in batting with .255. The ten leading batters, including those who have played in at least half the games of their clubs, are:

Robertson has displaced Daubert as leading leader in the National league, hitting .350 to Daubert's .323. Cleveland, in front again in stolen bases with 26; Plack, Chicago, in sacrifice hits with 25; Williams in home runs with 10 and in total bases with 130, and Burns, New York, in runs scored with 50. Brooklyn is ahead in team hitting with .256. The leading batters are:

Robertson, New York, .350; Daubert, Brooklyn, .323; Hinchman, Pittsburgh, .320; Wagner, Pittsburgh, .325; Long, St. Louis, .324; Zimmerman, Chicago, .320; Wheat, Brooklyn, .318; Schulte, Chicago, .312; Cobb, Cincinnati, .311; Williams, Chicago, .305; Hornsby, St. Louis, .302.

GREAT AUSTRIAN DERBY
VIENNA, July 8.—The great annual Austria Derby, the banner race of the sporting season for all Austria-Hungary, this year proved even more of the anticipated success. It far outdid the attendance and sporting features.

Many of the big figures in society and the smart and brilliant gowns of peace-time were lacking, but the threatening weather was largely to blame for that.

The Austrian race track crowd is totally unlike the one-time American crowd. The nerve-racked excitement of the American track is lacking, and when the horses come thundering down the track—from right to left instead of from left to right and on sand instead of solid earth—there are seldom any shouts for a first horse.

A feature of the Austrian track is the surprising number of women who bet on the races. Thousands of them crowded to the pari-mutuel booths on Derby day, feverishly thrusting their ten and twenty crown bills to the cashiers, and justly making their way after each race to the pay-off by the women. Too, furnished a sight that is not common on an American track, for countless numbers of them strolled about the paddock, or leaned against the rail smoking cigarette after cigarette. They stood about the huge announcing board with cigarette between their lips, program in hand, carefully and skillfully checking off the numbers of the horses to run in the next race and the names of the jockeys who were to ride them.

The only signs of war, if they would strike even the outsider, were the gray uniforms of officers and soldiers who mingled with the crowd.

The most popular favorite did not win, so there was a sorrowful throng, certainly one that gave no hint that fathers and brothers, husbands and sons are spread out along several hundred miles of battle line, or wounded in the hospitals or dead and buried.

GAVE PIANO RECITAL
A delightful pianoforte recital was recently given by the pupils of Miss Edith F. Cove at her studio in West Sixth street. The attendance was large and the program was very pleasing. Those who took part were: Edith F. Cove, Evan Cork, Lillian Wiener, Pauline Robinson, Nettie MacCallum, Walter MacCallum, Daniel Scanlon, Eddie Fleming, George MacCallum, Alice Wiener, Award Darby and Miss Edith F. Cove.

LAWRENCE PLAYERS APPEAL TO SECRETARY O'NEIL—LEAGUE MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

HARTFORD, Conn., July 8.—Vice President Daniel O'Neill of the Eastern baseball league said last night that he had received telegrams yesterday from a number of the players of the Lawrence club, stating that they had not received the salaries due them July 1, and declaring they would take the matter into their own hands unless they were paid promptly.

Mr. O'Neill left last night for a conference with Owner Jos. F. Sullivan of the Lawrence club in that city tomorrow. Before leaving he issued a call for a meeting of the directors of the league next Tuesday evening in Worcester.

MIDSUMMER MADNESS

This is the season for that peculiar disease or affliction which in Spain they call "Midsummer Madness." The dignity and gravity of the Spanish character is proverbial, but with the midsummer comes the carnival, the bull fight and resultant riots of color, sound and license of all kinds. When the excitement is in the air, estimable and stately dames have been known to give way to silly caperings and for a brief season prudence is thrown to the winds. So, at least, the romancers say, and Spain is a fruitful mine for the romancing fraternity.

Be that false or true, we have our own peculiar forms of midsummer madness and they will be much in evidence for the next few months. On the streets, along country roads formerly the abode of quiet, on the beaches, by pond and lakeside, and at every summer resort large and small people who through the winter develop a form of the dangerous disease often with deleterious results to themselves and others. The heat of the atmosphere seems to go to the brain, and consequently a large crop of summer folly is sown broadcast.

Midsummer madness, as we know it, is highly contagious, but the germ has not yet been discovered. In its milder form it is known as vacation fever and in its later stages it is often fatal. It leads the man at the wheel to throw prudence to the winds and fall over an embankment; it lures young fellows who cannot swim into canoes; it leads to rocking the boat; it makes swimmers just for the open water when they might just as well swim along the shore—in a word it is responsible for many, if not most, of the deaths and tragedies, physical and moral, that happen during the vacation season.

The cure for midsummer madness is found in the mind of those so sadly afflicted, but it is the officer of the law and not the doctor who best administers external remedies. Remembering that a great majority of the people remain sane even in summer, those who might spread the disease should be thwarted and checked lest we have results that would make measles, infantile paralysis and the rest of those uncomfortable visitants look in comparison like a summer shadow. Beware of midsummer madness and shun the victims of it if you would have peace of mind and soundness of limb.

MEXICO CALMS DOWN

By sending a reply to Carranza stating that his representations would be accepted by this government our state department has not only put aside all prospect of war but has started a permanent solution of the Mexican question. The only possible complication would be a show of bad faith by the Mexican president or the complete collapse of his authority. So long as Carranza remains even nominally president and puts his policies into practice, there will be no war between the United States and Mexico.

It may seem somewhat contradictory that at a time when all danger is passing, American recruits are being rushed to the border in full strength, but the two situations are reconcilable. Carranza very pointedly stated in his note that the unprotected state of the border has been responsible for most of the misunderstandings, and instead of being displeased by the show of force he seemed to desire it. So long as our troops remain on American territory active, vigilant and ready for any change that may come, it is hardly probable that any Mexican mob will openly oppose them, and since the troops now in Mexico have no definite future program they might be withdrawn with advantage.

In the sober second thought that follows critical periods of popular agitation, Americans must ask themselves the source of the many rumors that presaged war with Mexico. Scarcely despatches kept coming from the border without having the slightest foundation in fact, and the advance summaries of the Carranza note were all keyed to a defiant pitch. The outcome is a lesson for the people to keep their heads in the face of wild rumors, for while feeling ran high when the troops fanned southward, everybody rejoices at the present developments. It might be well for the government to investigate some of the rumors that have been so insistently circulated for the past few weeks, and such an investigation might do away with one of the permanent causes of Mexican unrest. At any rate the general public will be a little more careful when the next crop of false scares is sent through the country, recalling how the present situation is righting itself without the necessity for war.

AGAIN THE EXPERTS

It is strange that the reputable organizations of the medical profession and legal profession have not done away with the abuse of the "expert" as demonstrated at murder trials. Again a typical example is before the public with its usual ramifications. In a sensational Illinois murder case the prosecution and the defense have lined up several medical men of more or less pretense and these flatterly contradict each other in their findings. The entire case seems to hinge on their testimony and it must be difficult for the jurors to arrive at a decision, so emphatic are the statements of the experts and so completely at variance one with the other.

It does not conduce to the justice of American trials or help to raise the standard of court procedure when so-called experts get up, six on a side and wrangle over some technicality before a group of jurors to whom it is all Sanscrit. Whether or not the medical wonders get their client off free they generally utter some startling phrases that get into the vernacular for a temporary stay. During the Thaw trials "exaggerated ego" and "brainstorm" were evolved and at every important murder trial since then we have the same old spectacle of the expert who is willing to stake his life that the testimony of his brother expert is entirely in error. Incidentally, the more wealthy the client, the greater the number of experts and the more convincing their testimony pro or con.

It has been suggested that the state employ mental experts, poison experts, etc., and choose men of the highest standing in their profession and the highest character. It is meant that these should take the place of the expert hired privately, and give a final decision on technical aspects of the case in point. This arrangement might not meet the ends of justice in every case but it would come nearer to it than the present system which would be ludicrous if it were not so tragic and fraught with dangerous possibilities.

A USEFUL TEST

Even though the troops at the Mexican border should be withdrawn tomorrow, there is nothing to regret either in their departure or their return. They have been organized just to meet such emergencies, and it is all in the line of duty. They have not been handed together to fight battles, but to defend the country and to protect its interests whenever the government calls upon them. The more ardent among them, filled with the spirit of romance and adventure, may wish now to see active service, but the great majority will live to rejoice that the clash did not come to a worse pass.

Meantime it has been a splendid test of our preparedness and it has shown us many shortcomings that will undoubtedly be remedied. The food was inadequate at the concentration camps, the transportation was faulty, the aviation service was little better than experimental, and there was insufficient clothing and equipment for the recruits. Moreover, while foreign nations keep soldiers in training squads for at least six months we sent green men to the border with hardly any training. These are the things that the government must now face, not in a partisan spirit but with genuine regard for the future, and all should be glad that we have learned such a valuable lesson without having to pay a more costly price therefor.

There is a growing movement both in the federal service and in the various state units to turn down applicants for service who have dependent families. In a long war we might have to muster in all our citizens as some of the European powers have done, but in a hurry such as that with Mexico it was not wise to encourage the enlistment of men who will leave dependent families behind. Ultimately the burden of caring for dependents will fall upon the state, and the married man or main support of a family should see duty closer to home until Uncle Sam calls him specifically.

MALDEN GETS CUP

After hearing the reports of the various New England cities that conducted a clean-up and paint-up week, the committee in charge has decided to award the large silver cup to Malden, and Manchester, N. H., has come in for honorable mention. Lowell was included in the list of cities, and for that matter was the first to have an official proclamation along these lines in this part of the country, but without we came off without either award or honorable mention. To be sure we are too big to cry about a silver cup and we congratulate Malden, but we resent any allusion to the fact that Lowell is not as clean as its reputation. We have had our reward in a cleaner and more sanitary city and if we keep on in the same progressive way, we will give Malden, Manchester and the others a run for their money next year.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

The epidemic of infantile paralysis that is at present sweeping over New York is proving fatal in so many cases that it has aroused terror in the congested districts of the great city, and other cities are beginning to take precautions to guard against the disease.

EYES EXAMINED

By experts at the Caswell Optical Co.
39 MERRIMACK ST.

The announcement that a case has been discovered in this city should not occasion undue fears as there have been several cases every year but nothing like an epidemic as yet. The disease is not yet clearly understood and it has baffled successful treatment, but in New York they are working for prevention more than cure. Absolute cleanliness is necessary as a safeguard, the unsanitary sections of the city being the most prolific nurseries of this class of some other children's diseases.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some people don't mean to make matters worse, but they do it just the same.

Noah was the first to advocate a larger navy, but no one took any stock in him and he had to embark alone.

What Married Life Is

"I'm thinking of getting married, pa. What's it like?"
"You had a job as a janitor once, didn't you?"
"Yes."
"And you had a position as watchman once, didn't you?"
"Yes."
"And you worked a while as a caretaker, didn't you?"
"Yes."
"Well, it's a combination of all three jobs—and then some."

District of Maine

Long before the Revolutionary war the title to what is now the state of Maine was in dispute between England and France. In 1763 France relinquished her claim to England, and in 1783, at the close of the Revolution, the British claims were ceded to the United States. From 1783 until 1820, when Maine was admitted to the Union as a separate state, it formed a part of Massachusetts and was called a province or district. There were no Maine soldiers in the Revolutionary war; they were Massachusetts soldiers from the district of Maine.—Philadelphia Press.

Some Tavern Heroes

The Marquis of Granby bears a title that swings from many a tavern sign-board all England over. London alone has some half a dozen. Yet this popular soldier, who commanded England's troops in Germany during the Seven Years' war, was the target of some of "Junius'" most bitter invective. The secret of his popularity lay in the fact that Granby was always a soldier's general who not only led them well in the fight, but also cared for their comfort in the camp. The sign in said to have been opened by one of his gardeners at Hounslow. Apart from Wellington and Nelson, the marquis comes easily first among England's tavern heroes.—London Chronicle.

A Bullly Good Year

The novelist was out walking and came upon a bull in a field. He only saved himself being thrown over a barbed wire fence by jumping it, at the cost of torn garments and many scratches. As he sat on the grass beside the fence the farmer appeared.
"What do you mean," the novelist shouted, "by letting such a savage bull as that run loose?"
"Surely the bull has some rights in the field," the farmer replied, smiling quietly.
"But do you know who I am?" the novelist exclaimed. "I am Henry Hillyar Dash, author of 'Gilt Hair' and 'Tut Lips of Love,' and a member of congress."
"Great Scott!" said the farmer. "Why didn't you tell the bull?"

Novel Use for Gunpowder

"Early in the sixties of the last century," writes Rev. Fuller Mills, a Welsh clergyman, "I was a boy behind the counter of what was known as the corner shop at Aberystwyth, among the collier customers who came to the shop was a tall, well developed man known as Dick Stevens or Stephens.
"He was a member of the prize ring or the pugilistic fraternity, which was very popular in those days. Dick Stevens was matched to fight Catcham and was preparing for the fight when he came to the shop for his weekly requirements. . . . He generally asked for an ounce or two of gunpowder. I wondered at it, and my curiosity was aroused.
"One day he used it for. His reply was, 'I mix it with my gravy when I have my dinner and swallow it. It prevents the flesh from easily pulling under the hard blows of an opponent. The cuts and bruises are not so hurtful and heal more easily.'"

CATTLE FOOD WASTED

Failure to Utilize the Available Material Has Increased Cost of Producing Meat

A vast quantity of feed available for cattle is now either profitably absorbed or put to some less profitable use, says a recent report which the department of agriculture has just published as part IV of a comprehensive survey of the entire meat situation in the United States. Failure to utilize the full value of this material has increased unnecessarily the cost of producing meat, has diminished the profits from cattle feeding, and has discouraged many farmers from engaging in an industry essential to their permanent prosperity.

According to the report already mentioned, the loss in grain, straw and corn stover amounts to more than $100,000,000 annually. Both of these products are disposed of most economically when fed to cattle in connection with some form of concentrated feed. Straw is especially valuable in carrying the breeding herd through the winter, in wintering stockers, and as a supplementary roughage for fattening cattle. Stover, too, is an excellent feed for wintering cattle, especially mature breeding cows. Nevertheless, in many sections of the country where these products are abundant, little attempt is made to take advantage of their value for these purposes.

Of an annual straw crop of approximately 130,000,000 tons, it is estimated that only two-thirds is put to its best use—live stock production. The remainder is burned or otherwise destroyed. In the case of grain, the loss is estimated at about 10 per cent. of the total crop is burned. Burning is practically an absolute waste and although plowing under does contribute something to soil fertility, the benefit to the land is less than that which would be derived from the use of the straw to produce manure. "Of all systems of obtaining permanent soil fertility," says the report, "none is so practical or as easily available as that of feeding live stock."

The average value of all kinds of animal feed at about $5 a ton in many sections, of course, no such price can be realized for it, and as a matter of fact only about 8 per cent. of the grain actually is sold. The figure mentioned, however, may be taken as representing the value to the farmer of straw if he will use it properly in his feeding operations. The report goes on to state that the loss of straw in the burning of the crop is estimated at about 10 per cent. of the total crop is burned. Burning is practically an absolute waste and although plowing under does contribute something to soil fertility, the benefit to the land is less than that which would be derived from the use of the straw to produce manure.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY

Building Operations Rushing—
Theatre, Church and Dwellings
—Transactions for the Week

It is believed that in about ten days the real work on the erection of the modern theatre in Central street will be ended, for the demolishing of the old structure is going on rapidly. Most of the tenants of the old buildings have vacated their former places of business and at present gangs of men are employed in removing the old structures. The new theatre, the seating capacity of which will be about 2500, will be erected over the canal bridge between the junction of Prescott street and the New American hotel. The front part of the building will be for stores and business offices. The entrance to the theatre will be in Central street and will extend many feet to the rear, terminating with a swing to the right into the theatre proper. The stage will be spacious so that it can readily be diverted from movies to regular plays. It is being planned to make the building very ornamental with decorations of exceptional beauty. It is hoped the building will be ready for occupancy some time next fall.

Beautifying Grounds

The first steps towards beautifying the grounds of the Lowell Textile school in 3000 street have been taken this week and now men are busy laying a cement curbing around the vacant plot opposite the school. This curbing will prove a great improvement, for it will serve to keep the water on the land in rainy days and thereby will keep the sidewalk clean. If the plans of Clerk Smith of the board of trustees are carried out, this large tract of land in a few years will serve as a campus, while on the present campus will be erected a modern dormitory and dining apartments for the students. The trustees are also contemplating the erection of a machine shop in the rear of the present buildings and work on the new structure, which will be of brick and steel, will be started probably in the early spring.

St. Louis' Church

The foundation for the new St. Louis church in West Sixth and Bolivar streets is nearing completion, and the brick masons will soon start on the walls of the building. Work will be rushed along for it is being planned to open the new place for service at Christmas if possible. Zuel Houle is the general contractor in charge of the work.

Room in Collinsville

A large tract of land situated off Lakeview avenue in the vicinity of St. Mary's church in Collinsville was recently divided into lots for sale and many houses have been erected during the past few months. Some of the buildings, however, are not of the most desirable type, for they have the appearance of camps, but it was stated yesterday that they were erected temporarily and that within a year or so more modern houses will replace them. It is expected that between 50 and 100 cottages will be erected there.

New Buildings

Avila Sawyer, who has erected numerous houses in the new Highland district, is still on the job and this week he has started work on the erection of bungalows in Fleming street. This same party with Arthur Greet has made plans for the erection of at least a half dozen double houses in Middlesex street between School and Walker streets. Burton G. Coburn has started work on the construction of a double house at the corner of Dayton and Boylston streets. Each tenement will have five rooms with pantry and bath. The estimated cost of the building is $2500. Mrs. Dorman Smithson has purchased the beautiful home of Walter H. Howe located at the corner of Thorndike and Summer streets. This is one of the most attractive homes in the city. Plans have been made for extensive improvements to the Mansur block in Central street, owned by the Nesmith heirs. Dickerman & McQuade, lessees of the first floor of the building, have been granted permission to change the location of the entrance in the store from Central street to the corner of Market. Extra windows for display purposes will be placed in a blank wall in Market street, and a driveway now leading into the basement and located in the centre of the first floor will be relocated adjacent to the entrance. The estimated cost of the improvements will be $2500.

Beckell Rundell has taken out a permit for the erection of a cottage in Du Maine street. The house will contain six rooms and bath and will cost about $2400.

A workshop is being erected in the rear of the Boston Auto Supply store in Bridge street by the owner, Owen E. McGarry, at a cost of $200.

Antoine Noval is building piazzas and a new stairway to his home, 9-11 Phoebe avenue, at a cost of $150.

Mild Michael is building an extra chamber to his property numbered 8 Maple street. The ell will be one story, 9 by 12 feet, and will adjoin the rear of the building. The cost will be $50.

Belvidere Park

Prospective land buyers will find some excellent building sites in Belvidere park, which is being offered for sale by the Park Land company. The locality is ideal for a home; the prices are reasonable, and the terms of payment easy. Free building plans go with the purchase of each site. Visitors to the park will find courteous and helpful service every afternoon, including Sunday from 1:30 to 4:30. The Andover street car passes the park.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Sales by E. F. Slattery, Jr.

Edward E. Slattery, Jr., 603 Sun building, reports the following sales for the week ending July 7th:

The sale of the two and one-half story, two-tenement house situated at 35-41 Centre street, near Broadway. Each tenement contains seven rooms, pantry and bath, together with separate front and rear entrances and cement cellars. Land to the amount of over 3100 square feet is conveyed in the transaction. The total assessment on the property is $3000, of which $600 is paid. The balance of $2400 is payable in five annual installments of $480 each, beginning on the 1st of January, 1917. The grantee being Mrs. Annie Hogan of North Chelmsford, the grantee being Mrs. Mary Dawson, who purchases for investment purposes.

Final papers have been placed on record conveying the splendid two-tenement house at 39-41 Burdett street in the Highlands. Each apartment contains seven rooms, bath, furnace heat, set tubs and cement cellar. Both front and rear entrances are entirely separate and the property is in excellent condition throughout. The room is in the state and the cellar are cemented. Over 3500 square feet of land accompanies the house and the total assessment on both amounts to $3250. This sale was made for the Gray estate, the buyer being Leon E. Berry of the Gray estate.

Also the sale of a very fine investment property consisting of a two-tenement house and a cottage house. The two-tenement house has six rooms, pantry and bath to each tenement, and the cottage contains seven large rooms. The land occupies an area of over 3200 square feet. The property is situated on one of the best streets in Pawtucketville and is in absolutely perfect repair throughout. Names of contracting parties will be given later.

Sales by T. H. Elliott

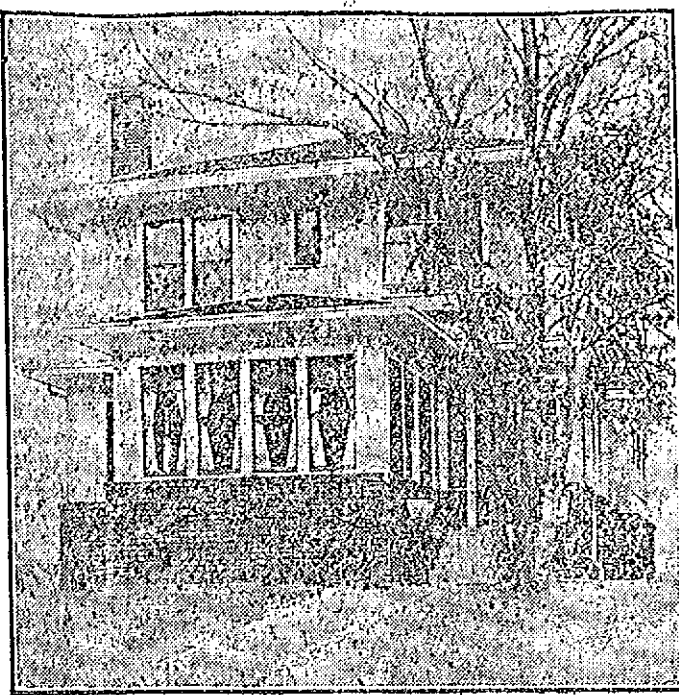

Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices 42 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, July 7th:

The sale of the attractive cottage property situated at 27 Marginal street near its junction with Wilder street. The house has seven excellent rooms and bath, the plumbing being of the most modern type and recently installed. The land involved in the transfer amounts to 5565 square feet, and is assessed at the rate of 15c. per foot, the assessment totalling on land and buildings $1550. The sale is effected on behalf of Miss Anna T. Coffey, the purchaser being George B. Travers, formerly of Lynn.

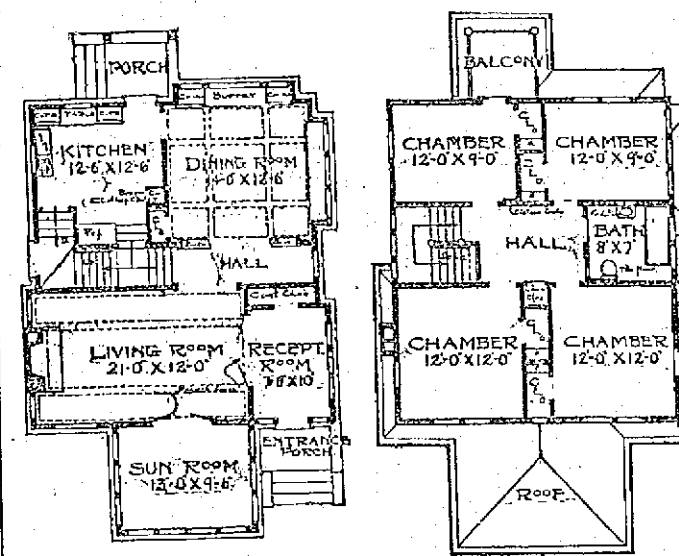

Also the sale of a new semi-bungalow property situated at 29 Dummer street near the corner of Light avenue. This house is of the most modern type of construction, heated by steam, lighted by combination electricity and gas, and with floors of polished hardwood throughout. It has six rooms and occupies land approximating 4500 square feet. The sale is effected on behalf of Harvey B. Greene, the purchaser being Miss Elizabeth H. Cunningham. Miss Cunningham is already in occupancy of the premises.

Final papers have been passed in the sale of the residential property situated at 434 High street, in the Belvidere section. The house is full two and one-half story with nine excellent rooms and is provided with every convenience. There is a first class stable on the premises. The land involved in the transaction totals 4250 square feet, the assessment being at the rate of 20c. per foot and totalling on land and buildings $4450. Extensive repairs and renovations have already been begun on the property. The sale is negoti-

LABOR STATISTICS IN FRANCE

PARIS, July 5.—The latest statistics of the labor department show that while women outnumbered men in France before the war by 156,632 (in a total population of 39,802,253) the war will probably decrease the number of men at least 2 million, giving the women a majority of 1,786,000.

The additional million excess female population will be obliged, in part at least, to support themselves, increasing considerably the percentage of female wage earners, which according to statistics of the year 1912 was one-fourth of the total number of employed in commercial and industrial establishments subject to inspection by the labor department.

There were 11,000,000 persons earning salary or wages in France before the war. They were distributed as follows:

Farm hands 3,300,000

House servants 800,000

Government employees 1,000,000

Commercial employees 1,000,000

Industrial employees 5,000,000

Of the 4,360,000 workers in commercial and industrial enterprises inspected in 1912, 1,212,350 were women and girls. There were, besides, a million women and girls, mostly garment makers, engaged on piece work at home and escaping the inspection law.

They brought the total of female workers to 2,212,350 as against 2,730,100 men. Since the war began at least 150,000 women have been added to the number, making in round numbers 2,360,000.

Half of the total war losses in men will fall on the factories and commercial establishments, decreasing the total number of male wage earners to 3,272,110. Supposing that half the same number of women will replace them it will bring their total up to 2,860,000 or 47 per cent. of the whole.

INDIAN POET COMING

TOKIO, July 5.—Sir Rabindranath Tagore, the renowned Indian poet, who has arrived in Japan to study the psychology of the people, will probably leave for the United States by the end of July. He will deliver a series of lectures in the United States, expounding his ideas on literature and art. It is likely that he will spend the winter there, and in the spring, if the war is over, cross to England.

In Tokio the poet seeks to adhere as closely as possible to his normal life. He rises seldom later than 3 o'clock in the morning, and passes four hours in meditation. He believes that if by reflection and repose he can still the surmise of thought the deeper sub-conscious ideas come to their owner. At 7 o'clock he takes tea and after tea he works till 11 when he bathes and has a meal. He tries to sleep a little in the afternoon and he retires at ten. He is content normally with five hours sleep.

Seventy-five per cent. of the women workers in Germany work ten hours a day or more and their wages vary from 2½ to 15 cents an hour.

SURPRISE TO ITALIANS

REPORT PRINCE EDWARD ALBERT

OF WALES SEEKS HAND OF YOLANDA

ROME, July.—Unconfirmed reports that Prince Edward Albert of Wales, heir apparent to the British throne, seeks the hand of Princess Yolanda, the eldest daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, have excited widespread discussion here. The rumor is a surprise to Italians generally for it had been supposed that the British prince would marry one of the daughters of Emperor Nicholas of Russia, but there are a number of incidents that have led the Italian people to believe that Prince Edward will marry the Princess Yolanda.

She is now stated that the reason of the visit of the Duke of Connaught to the Italian king in May was to present the formal request of the king and queen of England for the hand of the Princess Yolanda. The prince is only fifteen years old and the princess only twenty-two. She received an English education from babyhood under the tutelage of an English governess. Miss Brown, and those who know her intimately have spoken of her as one of the best marriageable prospects in Europe. Her father, who is said to be an extremely sensible and practical man, having been brought up in a family that is peculiarly domestic, and being the oldest girl in the family, her royal intimates say she has been regarded as the "boss" of the household. She has always acted as the protectress of her younger sisters and her brother, Prince Humbert. Sometimes she has extended this role even to her mother, the queen. The latter, on one occasion recently, when speaking to the American wife of an Italian journalist, said "I rarely attempt to speak English because Yolanda insists on correcting my mistakes."

The princess strongly resembles her mother, having dark hair and eyes and olive complexion, and the slow smile not unlike the famous one in the Lisa paintings of the modern outdoor scene. She is taller than many of the Italian girls who have followed the English and American custom. She plays tennis well, rides, swims and is an excellent pistol and rifle shot. Since the outbreak of the war she has been a companion and aid to her mother in the hospital and in the hospitals, particularly in the latter.

The princess is a Catholic, and the English law does not allow of the occupancy of the British throne by a Catholic, but among those who wish to see the marriage carried out, it is recalled that in recent years certain princesses have changed their religion in order to become queens. The queen of Spain became a Catholic on her marriage with the German prince, and adopted the religion of the country for the same reason.

Should the marriage not take place, the fact may some day develop that it was because the princess so wished to be sufficiently converted to democracy ideas not to insist on the wedding which the prince fails to view with full approval. As the throne of Italy cannot be inherited by a woman, the marriage of a royal princess has not the far-reaching political importance that is true in the case of the Prince of Wales. The war having apparently eliminated both German and Austrian princes in northern England or Russia, she may after all marry in Italy, where many of the princely houses consider themselves quite as good as the House of Savoy.

The Italian royal family is far wealthier than the English royal family, being rated only second as to that of Russia in wealth, and much of this wealth is in cold cash, not in undeveloped lands.

SCOTCH SOLDIERS DECORATED

LONDON, July.—Two Scotch soldiers, who "at a critical moment steadied the trench and playing mouth-organs while exposed to heavy fire," have been given the distinguished conduct medal. They are Company Quartermaster Sergeant E. S. Beech and Lance Corporal Vickery of the Seventh Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders.

SWISS EXPORTATION INCREASES

BERNE, July.—Swiss exportation to the United States shows large increases in several articles, particularly in condensed milk, Swiss cheese and emmentaler. Exportation from the cantons of Zurich and Lucerne alone amounted in value to 7,600,000 francs as against 5,200,000 francs in May, 1916.

LOWELL MAN IN GASH

SALEM, July 5.—Among the cases in the Essex county superior court at the July return day were nine suits growing out of automobile accidents, the aggregate of the ad damnum claimed being $26,700. There was one suit against the Boston & Maine railroad for $5000 and three suits against the Bay State Street Railway company aggregating $16,300. There was one suit for alleged malicious prosecution and several suits for falls on icy sidewalks, during the past winter and spring, but the great majority of the cases were actions of contract. There was one action of assumpsit, that of Morris L. Silverstein of Lawrence vs. James H. Gamble of Lowell in an action of contract for $2000, being a suit on a promissory note.

FIRST BOSTONIA SENT

Bulletin of Boston Current Events
Wired to the Militia on Service from the City Hall

BOSTON, July 5.—The first issue of "Bostonia," the name for the night telegram to be sent daily to the Massachusetts militia at El Paso, was planned by Mayor Curley, was sent last night and will be posted in the Texas camps this morning. The mayor wants to keep the boys informed daily of the chief happenings in the state. The subject matter will be written by the reporters at city hall and the mayor will be the editor.

The first issue contained brief summaries of events current in Greater Boston, believed to be of interest to the militia at the border.

ROAR OF GUNS HEARD

BERLIN, July.—Herr Wilhelm Krebs, director of the Holstein "Weather and Sun Observatory" at Schnelsen, writes to the Lokal-Anzeiger that the roar of the guns in the battle of Jutland was plainly heard by his two adult daughters at Schnelsen, which is 340 miles from the scene of the fight. The young women claim to have heard plainly 10 individual salvos about 6 p. m. on May 31 at intervals of five to ten seconds.

Herr Krebs reports that the rumble of artillery fire at Verdun has been heard at Ziegenhain (in Hesse-Nassau), which is 211 miles from the battlefield. In both cases, he explains, favoring winds facilitated the extraordinarily long transmission of the sound.

BATTLED BY TYRES GUNS

LONDON, July.—The sound of the big guns at Ypres has been heard on rare occasions in various parts of London, occasionally at a point in Essex county 150 miles away and repeatedly at points in this country 125 miles from the scene of firing, according to Miller Christy, a widely known member of the Royal Meteorological society. The speaker said that windows in The Temple, a huge building of law offices almost in the heart of the city, were rattled violently many times by the Ypres guns.

Lloyd George and Sir A. Conan Doyle, the speaker added, were among those who had heard the sounds.

THE SPELLBINDER

Since Lieut. Christian wired back to Lowell this week, asking for $5.00 for a mess-house for Company M, and for their tents, which have been given them, the city has been given twice that amount of money to their companies, many have expressed wonderment at the slowness of the municipal council in appropriating money for the soldier boys, and there has been not a little criticism of the city government for not coming to the assistance of the soldiers with the public funds.

Any such criticism is entirely unwarranted for no city can appropriate money for any such purpose under the law. The municipal council cannot vote a dollar of the public money to the aid of the soldiers without a legislative permission, and a law when the legislature is not in session.

Those who have carefully considered the problem are of the opinion that eventually the state must take charge of the soldiers and their dependents and support them from the state funds, for in that manner the burden will be more equally distributed on all the different cities and towns throughout the commonwealth.

At a meeting of the Mayors' club held at Young's hotel, in Boston, recently, a committee of which Mayor O'Donnell was a member, was appointed to wait upon Gov. McCall relative to having him call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of providing the necessary funds from the state treasury. The committee met with the governor, but the latter didn't give the members much encouragement as to his calling a special session, either to give the cities authority to raise money for relief, or to adopt measures that would permit the state to do so.

But the general impression is that the governor will be obliged to call a special session, for while the demand has been made upon the cities, it has not been raised by private subscription is not sufficient, yet if the boys should remain on the border for a number of months, the relief required could not be met by private subscription.

The governor is practically marking time, hoping for a little clearer idea as to just what the cities are doing, and depending where local funds are not sufficient upon the special aid committee which he appointed, and which is seeking funds, although it would appear that its appeal is not being answered very generously.

The Mayors' club committee held a meeting last week, and the special committee intimated its willingness to give relief where the local funds are not sufficient to meet the demand upon them.

In Lowell, as elsewhere there has been no great impounding of funds in the coffers of the city's treasury, although within the short time since the boys went away there have been a number of appeals for aid.

As the funds being raised in this city by private subscription have been given thus far with the understanding that the money was to be used toward the support of the boys, it would be hardly fair to use that money to provide a mess-house and tent floors for the members of Company M, and hence it will be necessary to raise additional money for this specific purpose. It has been suggested that another tag day be held, in the very near future, to meet this situation.

Many very intelligent people, not only in Lowell, but throughout the country, can't understand why it is that the United States government does not attend to such matters for providing mess-houses and floors for its National Guard.

Re-districting the County
Under the law the county commissioners cannot re-district the representative districts of their respective counties until the month of August, but as that month is near at hand undoubtedly they are planning the job at this time.

The Courier-Citizen discussing the subject of re-districting, editorially, yesterday said: "The devout hope of the people at large is that new representative districts may be arranged bringing about a stronger delegation to the house. Lowell owes it to itself and its reputation to send exceptional men to the legislature and it is well to root out the voting units from their present ruts and make them take new ones for by so doing old habits may be shaken and better ones formed."

Truer words were never spoken, though seldom does an editor come out against his own political party in such manner. Here in Lowell, a democratic city, with two democrats in the house, for there are only two districts in which a democrat has a burglar's chance. For years the republican county commissioners have apportioned the representative districts of Lowell so as to keep the democrats in the minority at the house. As a result, a majority of republicans have been representing Lowell in the lower branch for years, and now the Courier-Citizen throws up its hands and wants a stronger delegation from Lowell. All of the republicans in the present house have served there before and some of them have had several terms, under the present district lines. The Courier-Citizen has finally come to the conclusion that the only way to get rid of them is by a shift of the district lines, and has come out in favor of it.

Will Open in Style
Last night's band concert advertising today's band concert was following the precedent established by the former administration in holding band concerts in every little corner of the city, as it is, it should be mentioned that the Chambers street playgrounds where the Cartridge Co. band is to perform tomorrow afternoon, is one of the city's largest new playgrounds which will be dedicated with a band concert on Sunday.

It was deemed inadvisable to have a concert on Monday when all would be at work and hence Sunday was decided upon. The Ward Four Improvement club tried to impress upon last year's government the need of a playground for the children of this district, but their efforts were in vain. The matter was not taken up until the spring is ready for the kids, with swings and slides and a good baseball diamond. The other concerts tomorrow are those postponed from Fourth of July.

The Lawrence Parade
Those who went to Lawrence from this city to view the postponed Lawrence parade which the local footers for Lawrence promised would relapse the Lowell parade, came back happy, for while they would admit it was an excellent parade, especially for the Lawrence parade, it could not compare with that held recently in this city. The Lawrence parade was greatly handicapped in comparison with the Lowell parade on account of the dark streets of the down-town city. Lawrence had no white street lights, which to send its marching organizations, and hence they did not show up as well as they would have on streets lighted as brightly as those over which the local paraders passed. That the Lawrence people appreciate the fact that Lowell had a great parade was demonstrated by the fact that Mayor McDonnell was selected as one of the judges at the down-town affair.

THE SPELLBINDER.

TROLLEYS CRASH

Two Bay State Cars in Head-on Collision—Six Injured

BOSTON, July 8.—Thirty passengers were thrown in heaps on the car floors and several were bruised and hurt, when two Bay State trolley cars crashed in a head-on collision on Condon street, Quincy, yesterday afternoon.

A worse accident was averted by the prompt action of Motorman Thomas Ferguson, who stuck to his post and reversed his motor when he saw the other car bearing down upon him, so that his car was moving backward when the crash came.

Among the more severely injured in the accident were:

Mrs. Lillian M. Johnson of Adams street, severely bruised about the legs. Miss Corinne LaBrecque, also of Adams street, bruised about the knees, arms and shoulders.

Mrs. John Mann, Centre road, Hough's Neck, bruised about the arms, neck and head.

F. J. Lever, 35 Colonial avenue, Dorchester, bruised about the legs.

P. J. Tobin, 37 Rock Island road, Hough's Neck, severely bruised and shaken up.

George Dierham, conductor, bruised about the head.

BABY WAS KILLED
MOTHER AND TWO COMPANIONS DYING AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT

HAMPTON, N. H., July 8.—Anna Margaret Doyle, the 7-month-old daughter of Mrs. Lucy M. Doyle, 53 Green street, Jamaica Plain, Boston, is dead, and her mother and two companions are lying at the Anna Jackson Hospital, Newburyport, as the result of an automobile accident which occurred late yesterday afternoon, midway between Westbrook village and this place. Two other companions escaped with minor injuries.

The party was on the way from Boston to Portland. Those besides Mrs. Doyle, who are seriously injured, are Miss Helen Perry of 82 Winter street, Portland, and John L. Lee, a brother of Mrs. Doyle. The names of the two others who escaped serious injury could not be ascertained.

IN POLICE COURT

Short Docket Before Judge Enright Today—Woman Fainted

John Mollahan, a young man, was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $5.00 in money from a young lady employed in one of the down-town stores. It appears that Mollahan entered the place in question last Wednesday and while the lady's attention was directed to another person he picked up her pocketbook and left the place. Shortly after he left, she discovered her loss and reported the matter to the police, and later Inspector Walsh arrested the man in Lawrence.

Mollahan has been before the court on several occasions and Judge Enright said it was his intention to send him to the reformatory for the fact that he had failed to make restitution. After summing up the testimony in the case the court deemed it advisable to send Mollahan to jail for ten days, after which he will again be brought before the court and the case disposed of.

Serious Offense
William E. Miller of Billerica entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with assault and battery on a girl and was ordered to pay a fine of $15. According to the story told the court, Miller who owns an automobile, has been taking girls to ride in the vicinity of Pinehurst park and his actions while on the road have not been in keeping with law and order. He was warned that in the event of his being brought before the court again on any such offense, he would receive a direct sentence.

Other Offenders
Mary Simoneau, on the charge of drunkenness, got a suspended sentence to the state farm.

William J. Carney, charged with being drunk, was given a suspended sentence to the state farm on condition that he leave the city and stay away. Thomas Hanson was given a direct sentence to the state farm and fined $10. Michael Ryan was ordered to pay a fine of $5.

Wife Fainted in Court
Daniel J. Murphy was charged with assault and battery on Joseph Flynn, but just as the trial was to start, the former's wife, who is in a delicate condition, collapsed and had to be carried from the court room. Owing to the fact that she is an important witness for the defense, Judge Enright and Lawyer Benjamin J. Maloney agreed to continue the case.

Y.M.C.A. SUMMER SCHOOL
During the past two days a large number of applications have come in for tutoring in high school subjects, so that arrangements are being made to accommodate every one so far as is practicable. As things are now shaping up, it is planned that the following list of subjects will be taught for six weeks running from July 10 to August 20. Both morning and evening classes will be conducted in several subjects, the evening classes only meeting two or three times per week. This branch of the summer school offers any high school student who may for any reason desire to review one or more subjects, a real opportunity of obtaining first class instruction for a moderate fee.

The enrollments for the class in grade studies have kept coming in and several more are planning to enter Monday morning.

Eleven boys have reported as desiring instruction in hammock making. This new feature is one which will be of great pleasure and profit to those boys who take up this form of craft work.

Another feature which is attracting considerable interest is the swimming which comes from 11.15 to 11.45 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Parents should take note of the fact that boys may receive special swimming instruction at the above stated periods on Mondays and Wednesdays without coming for the class-room work.

Three pony express licenses recently granted by the selectmen of the town of Billerica went into effect this week after the town had been thoroughly informed since May 1. These who have the right to transport liquor into Billerica are Joseph Mcweeney and Albert Wheeler, both residents of the town, and the American Express Co.

Last year's board of selectmen granted but one license and the American Express Co. was the choice of the board. At that time there was considerable comment because a local party was not favored but the selectmen refused to make any change. This year, however, when the applications were received on May 1, the board did not agree. Residents of the town appeared before the selectmen requesting that a Billerica expressman be granted a license as they did not think the issuing of one permit to the American Express Co. was fair. They contended that persons having automobiles should be favored as they were the only ones able to transport the liquor from the station to their homes.

Messrs. Martin Conway and Ralph E. Manning, who now have the affairs of the town in their hands, discussed the matter thoroughly at their last session and after considering the requests of the townspeople voted to issue licenses to two town expressmen as well as the American Express Co.

Camping Season
The camping season has opened in full sway and now hundreds of people are residing in the vicinity of Pinehurst park, one of the largest summer colonies in the vicinity of Lowell. Four licenses to sell ice cream, etc. on the Lord's day were issued by the selectmen and two applications for common victualler's li-enses were passed upon favorably. John Vernon, the Billerica Centre barber, was also granted a pool and billiard license. Mr. Vernon was refused a license last year.

Special Meeting
The special meeting of the town for the election of a selectman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Josiah Wright will be held on July 22. The polls will open at 12 noon and close at 8 o'clock. Some of the voters have stated that they will not be able to vote during these hours as they planned to go away Saturday forenoon for the week end. It has been suggested that the polls open at 6 in the morning and remain open all day.

Judging from present indications, there will be a raft of candidates for the office. The following are being mentioned but as yet none has definitely declared himself a candidate: Forrest F. Collier, Arthur Cook, Thomas F. Sheridan and Mr. Pasho. The latter made a good run at the February election.

LOWELL SOLDIERS AT EL PASO GETTING READY FOR CAMPAIGN NEW IRISH PARLIAMENT

Corp. Haggerty of Co. M Tells of Trip to Border

Great Ovarions En Route—Conditions in the Army Camps

CORP. FRANK HAGGERTY
Co. M, 9th Regt.

Special to The Sun
EL PASO, Tex., July 4.—In less than two weeks' time, 1234 days to be exact, Lowell, ever ready to do her part, placed sixty-six of her city's finest in the very midst of the Mexican trouble—within 300 yards of the Mexican outposts as they patrol back and forth along the boundary. For such a sudden change from the "well watered" climate of New England to the broiling hot alkali plains of the south without a single case of real sickness in the whole contingent speaks well both for the officers who make the sanitary rules and the men themselves who follow instructions to the letter not, however, without a great deal of discomfort.

Trip to Border

The trip to the border was full of interest from start to finish and highly instructive. From state to state—we passed through ten—the boys entered in their "war" diaries the different cities they passed through, their various industries, the condition of the climate, the nature of the soil, the principal incidents and the sights they saw. They also have several pages of addresses of "friends" they met along the way, and it will cost the first month's pay to most of us if we answer all the cards we promised.

Speaking of friends I might mention that the Massachusetts boys have a great many through the south. Every place we passed through, the people gathered in hundreds at the stations and we were welcomed like heroes, and while we sojourned the keys of the towns were given. The greatest reception of all was probably received at Springfield, Mo., and that city will always be remembered and passed through it. "The reception was in the hands of the Young Men's Business club, similar to our board of trade. It has several former New England business men among its members."

Great Ovarions

When the train stopped and the companies detrained for exercise, they were met by a committee of several hundred men who distributed fruit, soft drinks, post cards already stamped and numerous other things and without any limit as to quantity. The soldiers then took a little walk around the town for exercise and were much impressed with it. The boys stopped at two different places, the Anglians in Missouri and another in Oklahoma where we were allowed about three-quarters of an hour for a swim and to see the way we all took to water you would think it was to be our last dip. In New Mexico we passed through the mountains and the scenery was wonderful.

From El Paso, New Mexico, to El Paso, Texas, the climate gradually increasing and the bare stretches of sandy plains and cactus plants becoming more and more frequent until at about 6:30 p. m., or 8:30 Lowell time, we arrived at El Paso. I must say that what we saw. Instead of the little one-story shacks that we had been seeing all the way down, there were big six and eight-story buildings, all lighted up with electricity like a regular city. El Paso has a population of about 45,000, but there are about three Mexicans to two Americans. However, most of the Mexicans are peaceful citizens and in sympathy with the American soldiers. It was about 9:30, however, before we reached our camping grounds and pitched our "pup" tents in the dark.

I must admit our first impression of the place was entirely discouraging, but after a good night's sleep and a view of the place by day we changed our opinion and, rather like the looks of it now.

The Outlook

To the west at a distance of about three miles Mr. Franklin rises up into the sky. This is one of a chain which runs around to the north and east of El Paso and forms a sort of a large amphitheatre, on the side of which lies the city itself. To the south across the Rio Grande by the long straight plains of Mexico with clumps of trees scattered here and there and the city of Juarez makes quite a picture at night with its electric lights reflecting upon the white-walled buildings of the city. It looks more like a Parisian park, or some other resort at the border and the international bridges a hundred or two hundred yards apart. At night time the Americans have double sentries so that if one man happens to be hit by a sniper, of which there have been several cases, the other man gives the alarm. Besides the Massachusetts troops there are about 5000 regulars and several thousand others scattered along the other different border towns. The regular army men have received the Massachusetts men with open arms. They were a little skeptical at first owing to the poor showing made by the first states that were called, but when they saw the spirit and conviction of our contingent nothing was too good for us. They gave us clothing, the use of their baths, and best of all, "tips" on how to take care of ourselves. They all like the place and every one of them is the picture of health.

Sunday morning we had mass under the shade of one of the few trees and the whole regiment attended. The remainder of the day was given to ourselves to look around and get used to the place.

Monday morning we commenced our drills which will be under the supervision of regular army officers. "The men were issued 100 rounds of ammunition apiece this afternoon so as to be prepared for emergencies. This is carried in the belts at all times and a reserve supply is on hand should it be needed."

Get Summer Clothing

We are to receive our summer clothes in a day or so. Every man will be given three pairs of cotton khaki trousers, three olive drab shirts, six sets of underwear, six pairs of hose, two campaign hats and cords, and an extra pair of shoes.

Water is plentiful in the camp, there being bath houses for every regiment and fire lines to every company street for cooking purposes. For drinking we have ice water, the ice being manufactured near at hand. The water is of the very best and is under the direction of the sanitary engineers at all times.

Our bread is also baked every day right on this field in the army portable ovens, and it comes very near being like "what mother makes."

Jos. A. Greigore of the boys' clothing department of the J. I. Chalfoux Co. is getting a great tan.

Six of the boys lost their first day's pay for being absent from retreat roll-call.

Corporal Conway picked up a dog yesterday and the company has decided to keep it as a mascot.

Corp. Thyme is very much pleased with the camp and is not particular how long we stay.

The boys have kept Barber Private Doherty busy getting "baldies."

We shall miss our Fourth celebration in Lowell but there will be one here so that we shall have a chance to celebrate with ball cartridges instead of blanks.

Private Clephorn's address as it appeared several days ago in the roster of the companies should have been Village street instead of Billings street.

One of the pastimes of the boys is hunting and lizards, chasing zophers (a small animal like a squirrel) and gila monsters, a sort of a horned frog.

We are beginning to learn how to pronounce the Mexican names as they should be pronounced. Before we get back we ought to be able to speak a little of the Spanish tongue.

This country is the greatest in the world for people subject to colds and catarrhs, according to our doctors, on account of the altitude and the dryness of the air.

Corporal Thyme celebrated his 21st birthday on July 4th.

Private Murphy goes hunting for lizards with his bayonet.

Private Deosters is the happiest man in the outfit.

Private T. F. Lynch was the man who used the razor in giving Sergt. Wallace a "baldie" on the train.

Private Nestor never misses a call and retires the first in the company.

Private Gillis wishes to be remembered to the Concord street boys.

The boys are looking for their first post.

Senators and Congressmen Want to Get Home—Shipping Bill Holds Them and Embarrasses Many—Fight in Maine and Indiana—Fagan Can't Get Fat

Special to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—There is no longer a Mexican situation, so far as probability of war goes, in the minds of Washington officials. The Carranza note was so conciliatory in tone; the president's willingness to withdraw troops from Mexico, excepting to guard the border from raids, was so quickly made known that Secretary of State Lansing is going away for a month's vacation, congress is not talking war, and politics again hold full sway. To be sure, troops are still being mobilized at the Fort Meyer camp and will undoubtedly start for the border at an early date, but it will be for border duty only, so far as can be anticipated.

But if war talk is cooling, political talk is sizzling hot. The democratic senators and the republican senators have each organized a committee to take charge of the campaign work of electing senators, working in co-operation with the national committees. Special attention is to be given to the election of the national committees from the senate will act as advisers, workers and organizers to help in the election of the 32 senators whose terms expire on the 4th of March next. Of these vacancies to occur 15 are now filled by republicans and 17 by democrats. And it will be a fight to the finish between the two parties to gain a man.

Maine and Indiana

With two senators to be elected from Indiana and two from Maine it is safe to say that the attention bestowed on these two states will be overwhelming. The Maine election coming in September, will be the target for all eyes and it is expected that not only will President Wilson go there for a speech-making trip, but that Mr. Hughes, former President Taft and Col. Roosevelt will follow close on his heels in the republican cause, and the Pine Tree state will get a flood of oratory to which it is but little accustomed.

Senator Weeks is Chairman

Senator Weeks of Massachusetts is chairman of the senate committee to aid in the election of republican senators, and will take up active work as chairman, as soon as the list of national committee officers is completed. Senator Saulsbury of Delaware is expected to serve in a similar capacity for the democrats, with Senator Walsh of Montana as an active worker. With this special senatorial committee taking charge of the senatorial contests the congressional committee will be able to devote its entire energy to the election of members of the house instead of including the senators, as has heretofore been its custom.

Shipping Bill the Issue

After all, it looks as if it would be the shipping bill, and not Mexico or the European situation, that will be the rock on which an early adjournment will be wrecked. Many of the democratic senators would be entirely willing to accept the republican proposition and let the bill go over to the chamber. Many others object to the bill as they did before, and Senator Clark of Kansas will undoubtedly again lead the democratic opposition. It will be hard lines for some of the senators from states opposing the bill to vote for it, on the eve of election when they are to be candidates to succeed themselves. Take Maine for instance. The state is known to bitterly oppose the shipping bill, and yet Senator Johnson, democrat, who comes up for re-election, voted for the bill last year, in order to keep to party lines. Now this year he faces the necessity of doing the same thing, or being accused of changing his mind to gain votes. And it is a safe bet to say that a number of senators find themselves in the same position and would be only too glad to accept the suggestion of Floor Leader Gallagher that the matter go over to January, and that a voting day be now fixed. But thus far the president is insistent for immediate action, in which case the date of early adjournment has gone "adrifting."

President Attends Movies

The president has not yet gone to his summer home on Long Island Sound. Foreign complications, the threatened balk of congress over being kept here for the shipping bill—for the desire to go home and get into the campaign affects both parties—have kept him closely tied to the White House and offices. President and Mrs. Wilson are inveterate theatre-goers. They drop in nearly every evening to some motion picture show, or a vaudeville performance and laugh as heartily as the crowd over the funny incidents as they occur. For the president seldom or never selects a serious play. He wants to laugh and make merry after the day's cares are laid aside, and in informal dress, with pretty Mrs. Wilson by his side, he thoroughly enjoys the summer attractions at the theatres. The president wears, these hot days, a white outing suit, no vest, white canvas shoes, and a rather boyish looking straw hat. Mrs. Wilson has a new electric runabout, and sometimes takes the president out in it for a moonlight ride, closely followed by the big White House car with the detectives whose duty it is to keep the little electric at short range.

Fagan Fails to Fatten

Fagan of Washington is hunting for two pounds of flesh. He wants to be a soldier and is two pounds underweight. He has a military make-up, a military walk, the officers believe he did as well as he could. Fagan weighed 118 instead of 120 the recruiting officer told him to go home, eat a lot of "filling food," drink a lot of water, sleep sound and take no exercise, then come back and try it again. Fagan did as told, said he felt like a water-logged boat and knew he had gained five pounds—but no use, the scales did not show more than one pound gained. And now Fagan is hunting for food that has some real weight to it. Says what he wants is cooking school failures, such as fallen from the station every hour or so and tries those scales. He has got to have those two pounds and he has got to have them inside—he can't put weights in his pockets, for when they weigh soldiers there are no pockets to hold them. But Fagan is full of faith as well as food, and may yet get to camp.

HOTTEST SINCE SEPT. 17

OF 90—FAIR TODAY, BUT TOMORROW PROBABLY UNSETTLED

BOSTON, July 8.—Doubtless thousands rejoiced yesterday at the arrival of midsummer weather at last, and interpreted it as presaging delightful conditions for a week-end at the beach or in the country. But it is known that the last word from the weather bureau last evening was fair Saturday, with unsettled conditions on Sunday, probably followed by showers.

Yesterday, with a maximum of 90, was the hottest day since Sept. 17, 1915, the last day of the only real spell last year. On that day the maximum was 91, but the mercury did not reach 90 after that date. Just after noon yesterday the mercury acted in a very erratic manner, rising and dropping alternately a few degrees, owing to a duel between the east and the southwest wind. Had the east wind been victorious doubtless there would have been no 90-degree mark in red ink in the record for the day, four or five earlier than the first 90 mark's last July, but Mr. East Wind, who held sway to a delightful degree along the North Shore all day, lacked staying power as far south as Boston and a temperature "made in Texas" or thereabouts followed.

It Pleases No Section of the Irish People—Accepted Under Protest—Mr. Carson's Attitude

Beyond the fact that the opening of an Irish parliament in Dublin offers some guarantees against the possible attempt to repeal the home rule act in toto, the new parliament cannot meet the approval of any nationalist. It has been accepted by Mr. Redmond and the nationalists he represents under protest and as but a step towards a parliament that will represent the whole of Ireland.

When the home rule act was put upon the statute books, it was said there was a string to it. But no nationalist in Ireland had any fear of that string inasmuch as it merely proposed to give the Ulster counties the privilege of local option on the measure. The nationalists had the utmost confidence that not a single Ulster man would vote against the act. And perhaps Down could muster a majority vote against home rule. It must not be forgotten that a great many of the Protestants of Ulster are nationalists and home rulers.

Mr. Redmond and the Irish party felt that the application of the act was a subject to this superable objection was worth waiting for until after the war, as arranged when the bill was made law.

But as a result of the upheaval of the Sinn Fein revolt and the possibility of a still greater revolt that would cause the whole of the country to withdraw from the Irish leader and the nationalist majority have been forced as a matter of expediency to accept the present makeshift arrangement to last until the expiration of one year after the close of the war.

It is a plain case of the government pandering to the minority rather than asserting majority rule. Six Ulster counties are to be exempt from the present arrangement.

control of the Irish parliament, the members of which will temporarily be the 78 Irish members of the imperial parliament representing all but the excluded counties.

These are all nationalists except two, Sir Edward Carson and J. H. M. Campbell who, it is said, will represent Trinity College Dublin.

How Sir Edward Carson can consistently take a seat in the Irish parliament he has so steadfastly opposed, is difficult to understand except to those who know how easily he reconciled his alleged ultra loyalty to the king with his threats of rebellion and his personal negotiations with Germany before the war.

There is a bare possibility that Sir Edward may get over his narrowness in the new parliament, although judging from his past it is to be expected that once his insolence is met with the rebuke it merits, he will resign in high dudgeon and go out a more bitter unbeliever if possible than before.

But the nationalists of Ireland would promptly reject this fragmentary plan of home rule if they were not satisfied that eventually the division of Ireland will be overcome and that there will be but one parliament for the one indivisible Irish nation. If the south and west derive any marked material advantages from the operation of the new parliament, the six excluded counties will be glad to throw aside their prejudice and join the procession.

After the war the whole question may be settled by an imperial conference or by a session of majority rule through the British parliament in which all the Irish members will still retain membership under the present arrangement.

Wednesday, July 12, 1916, at 2.30 P. M., at Geo. Lynch's Wood Yard, 7 to 9 Marion St., Lowell

I will sell at public auction the buildings and all the personal property used by Mr. Lynch in his wood business, consisting of a one and one-half story building, 21 feet by 72 feet, all fitted for a store, with large windows. The inside of the store is all pine sheathed, and fitted with shelves, spice drawers, bins, etc.; also, a 20-foot store counter, one butter chest, cheese case, four show cases, two stoves, oil tank and pump, etc. Also, a stable for four horses, with large lot, large storage sheds for wood, and wagon sheds. These buildings are on leased land and will be sold to any person wishing to carry on the wood business or remove them from the land. One five horsepower electric motor, a good one, saw and saw bench, extra circular saws and belt; one power wood-splitting machine and shafting; two work horses, six wood wagons in good condition, two wood sleds, one pump, lot of harnesses, lot of new and second-hand wood baskets, canvas, etc. This is a good lot of personal property and will be sold to the highest bidder in lots to suit the purchaser, as Mr. Lynch has other business which takes up his attention.

Per Order, GEORGE LYNCH.

40 Years of Cures.

Think of it! What a monument of cures! 40 years sold on the basis of "No cure, no pay." That tells a wonderful story and shows what will do. It positively cures diarrhoea, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, dysentery, summer complaint, quickly. Keep it on hand and let your mind rest at ease. If you find it doesn't do as we say it will, you can get your money back. 25c, 50c.

On Next Saturday, July 15th, 1916, at 3 P. M.

Absolute Sale at Public Auction of a Two-Story House, Hen House and About 4000 Square Feet of Land, More or Less, at Number 508 Pleasant Street, Dracut Centre.

I have been instructed to offer at absolute public auction sale, this two-story house and about 4000 feet of land, situated within two minutes' walk of the Hovey Square electric car line, and about five minutes of the Bridge street and Dracut Centre line.

The property comprises a two-story house of eight rooms, besides bath-room and pantry, cemented cellar, gas, town water, etc.; buildings in very good repair. The lot has an area of about 4000 feet, with a frontage on Pleasant street of about 40 feet; there is ample room for a garden, besides space for keeping of hens. There is also a hen house on the lot.

The location is splendid, the neighbors mostly owning their own homes, thereby keeping the locality a quiet and reserved district. It is handy to the centre of Lowell, also close to schools, churches, stores, etc., and is almost within a stone's throw of the electric, and above all, enjoys transfer privileges to and from the city on all lines, Dracut Centre being the only suburb of the city to have such transfer accommodations.

This sale presents an excellent opportunity for any one to buy a home in a beautiful residential town, just over the city line, where one receives almost all the city privileges, and yet be located in a village well situated. If you have had in mind buying a home, and have thought anything of going just outside the city limits, "Here's your chance."

Terms: $250 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.

POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF AN ATTRACTIVE COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 2000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT NUMBER 13 FARMLAND ROAD, CENTRALVILLE.

I will offer for sale at public competition on the premises, this cottage house containing five rooms and bathroom, gas, city water, gas, etc. The lot has an area of about 2000 square feet of land and is situated within a minute's walk of the Lakewood avenue line of electric cars.

The property is located within easy walking distance of many of Lowell's largest manufacturing plants, and should be especially attractive to any one working in any of the nearby mills or factories, as it enables one to go home to his dinner. It is a splendid little home, is supplied with a bathroom, has gas, a good yard, and is in very good condition, and the sale of such a parcel should draw the attention of, and interest, any one with a small amount of money to pay down, who is desirous of owning his own home and who wishes to be in a first-class neighborhood.

Terms: $150 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.
